NORTH BAY, Ont., July 12.—As a result of forest fires in Northern Ontario, 30 lives are known to have been lost at the town of Porcupine, including those of Captain White and family at West Dome.

Many have been injured. A hospital train is now on the way to Iroquois Falls. It is believed the casualties will number hundreds.

THREE BODIES RECOVERED.

DETROIT, July 12.—Up to noon today three bodies had been found in the ruins of the villages of Au Sable and Oscoda, which were destroyed by forest fires. The body of Samuel Rumball, a tailor, was the only one identified.

State Fire Warden Oates received reports today at Lansing of fires near Onaway, Millersburg, northwest of Roscommon, and in Antrim county, but said that the telegraph reports from his deputies did not indicate that any communities were menaced at present.

Reports concerning the village of La Roque are conflicting. From Bay City comes the statement that La Roque escaped the flames, while from Detroit & Mackinac relief train, are shelterless in the swamps and fields about the still burning towns.

Only a score of dwellings in the south end are left standing. Reports continue to be received of possible loss of life.

At midnight last night a carload of food, hastily collected here by Mayor Woodruff and a volunteer committee, was dispatched to the two cities, as about 1200 people remained around the LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Judge Bordwell denied this afternoon the motions to quash the indictments against John and James McNamara charged with nineteen murders in connection with the destruction of a newspaper plant here October 1, 1910. The accused men at once entered pleas of not guilty to all the indictments.

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Mrs. Ortle E. McNamara and her uncle, George Behm, of Portage, Wis., both of whom are aligned with the dynamite case today, when the dynamite conspiracy case was called, and Judge Walter Bordwell prepared to render a decision on the motion to quash the indictments against the accused labor leader and his brother.

Mrs. McNamara and her uncle came to the court directly from the jail, where the two made another effort. It is asserted, to induce Ortle McNamara, the alleged confessed co-conspirator of the McNamaras, to repudiate his confession and abandon the side of the prosecution.

Torn between conflicting desires to do as his wife wished and also to keep his alleged pledge to become a state witness, McNamara is said to be on the verge of collapse.

LOSES 15 POUNDS.

His fallers said today that he was extremely nervous, that he has lost fifteen pounds since he arrived in jail, April 26, and that unless the trial of the McNamaras is held soon McNamara will not be in condition to assume the role of principal witness against them.

There was a large crowd in court today and overflowed through eadied about the courthouse corridors outside. Prior to the convening of court the general opinion was that the decision, as in the case of John McNamara's recent plea of no jurisdiction, would be against the defense. In that event, the accused men would be forced to enter their pleas to nineteen charges of murder tomorrow unless Clarence Darrow and his associate counsel have another preliminary move in view.

ARRIVES SECRETLY.

The visit of McNamara's wife and uncle to his cell today followed a similar call yesterday. Behm arrived here secretly several days ago. His record McNamara from boyhood and is said to have urged his nephew to do as his wife wished and remain true to his fellow prisoners.

Yesterday's ordeal was unproductive of results and the accused man was again visited today. McNamara is said to have wavered, but to have finally refused to desert the prosecution.

"I can not do it," he is quoted as saying. "That would hang me if I did it."

TECHNICAL ARGUMENT.

Though it was expected that Judge Bordwell would make a ruling before noon several hours of technical arguments on other motions and affidavits passed without the principal motion receiving attention.

Upon the request of the prosecution the court granted a motion to strike out

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Secretary of the Interior Walter Fisher was the most conspicuous prospective witness present when the House committee on expenditures in the Interior Department reassembled today to inquire into the alleged attempts of the Guggenheims or other interests to monopolize Alaska.

Though not subpoenaed, Secretary Fisher was allowed to make a statement in which he declared his conclusion that the public interests had not been jeopardized by anything done in the Alaskan case.

"DICK TO DICK" LETTER.

Secretary Fisher asked the committee to hasten the inquiry into the alleged "Dick to Dick" letter which cannot be found in the department files.

W. P. Fennell, counsel for the committee, replied that the letter was not of so much interest as the facts.

"It was within the power of the President," added Fennell, "to throw these lands open to all, so that the race would be to the swift, but it was not done that way. It was known only to a few and those few already have obtained a monopoly of the mineral rights in that territory. That is what we want to investigate."

"I am much concerned," said Secretary Fisher, "about the publication of a letter which Miss M. F. Abbott says she saw in the files of the Interior Department and that is not there now. If there is any one in the department who would be a party to the abstraction or destruction of public documents we want to know it. Men who had been in charge of the files in the Interior Department have left the service and others are about to leave, and I urge inquiry into that as soon as possible so that we may take steps to place responsibility for the removal of the letter if it ever existed. I never saw such a document as described—a letter from Mr. Ryan to Mr. Ballinger—and never heard of it until I read of it in the newspaper the other day."

Chairman Graham said the committee would get to the matter as soon as possible.

SECURE INFORMATION.

Secretary Fisher said that all information obtainable relating to Controller Bay was being compiled for the senate in response to the Poindexter resolution of June 27.

This data, he suggested, would be available to the house committee. Chairman Graham announced he would be glad to hear from Fisher on the merits of the Controller bay case, adding that the committee, "in all human probability," would ask him to appear formally later.

Secretary Fisher said his attention was first called to Controller bay by Senator La Follette, who sought specific information as to the claims, the identity of claimants, etc. After a thorough examination, Fisher said he was unable

ARGUMENTS CONSUME TIME

JURY TAKEN FROM COURT

COUNTY ASSESSOR H. P. DALTON as he appeared on the witness stand this afternoon.

Assessor Dalton testified today that the $5000 received from S. P. Eastman of the Spring Valley Water Company was a loan. He said that an appointment was made for a meeting between the witness and Eastman in "Jack's", where the subject was again brought up. The witness asked if the money was to be loaned in view of the reduction of the company's assessment and Eastman declared that such was not to be the case.

Eastman asked the witness what security Dalton he had to give for the money, and the witness replied that he had no security. Eastman replied that he thought he could accommodate him with the money. Later on an appointment was made between the witness and Eastman at Barnum's restaurant in this city.

When Dalton finished his story and was turned over to the prosecution Assistant District Attorney Hynes said: "No cross-examination."

Dalton was then excused and the defense announced that its case was complete.

County Assessor Henry P. Dalton, charged with having asked for and received a bribe from the Spring Valley Water Company, was called to the witness stand for the first time this afternoon. Dalton testified as to the request of the corporation, made in 1909, that there be a reduction made in the assessment of their riparian rights in this county. The county official testified that he told former attorney for the company, A. E. Shaw, who made the request, that he did not believe a reduction justifiable, and said that he notified him of his intention to "fight to hell" any demand made of the board of equalization.

Dalton took the stand soon after the calling of the afternoon session of the court. Deputy Clerk Wilson, who was to testify in regard to arguments as to the admissibility of testimony regarding the water company's alleged reduction of valuation of its property, was excused and the accused official called.

DALTON CALLED.

Deputy Chief Clerk Wilson was temporarily excused and Dalton was called. He was sworn and was examined by Attorney Wyman.

He said that in June, 1909, Attorney Shaw had called upon him and asked for a reduction of the assessment. He said that Shaw talked with him for some time. He said that Shaw asked for a reduction on the ground that the assessment on the riparian rights was excessive. The witness stated that the assessment was a fair one and that it ought to stand for the reason that the company was diverting water from this county and delivering it in San Francisco. He also stated that if the company should take the matter before the board of equalization he (the witness) would "fight it to hell."

The witness then told of meeting Lawrence in 1910. The subject of the riparian rights assessment was gone into. He said he was not in favor of the reduction of the assessment on the riparian rights.

Later he had a conversation with Behan and another man on the assessment of the Spring Valley Water Company. An appointment was made to visit the properties of the company. The trip was postponed on several occasions. Finally the trip was taken. The witness, Deputy Robinson, and a couple of others were present. They viewed the gravelled where the water was collected. They examined the water tower. They visited Sinal and Niles. The witness joshed Lawrence and Behan. He told that the assessment of the riparian rights of the company ought to be increased instead of being decreased. The company was taking the water from this county and delivering it in San Francisco. It was impoverishing the land and preventing the establishment of homes there, and it was at the same time closing up on schools in that section.

There was still another trip. On it was Lawrence, Behan, Mrs. Behan, the witness, Mrs. Dalton and Robinson. They went to Dumbarton Point, where the pipe of the company carries the water under the bay to San Mateo county.

The witness said he told Lawrence that their request for a reduction of the assessment on the riparian rights was excessive and that he stated he could not agree to it. On that trip they visited the pumping plant of the company in San Mateo, where the representatives of the company showed them the system, as also other properties. Later, on going over the country, Mrs. Dalton became nervous because of the fast driving of the chauffeur and insisted on going to San Francisco, which was done.

Lawrence was left at his home and Behan and his wife were parted with at the ferry depot in San Francisco. There was still another meeting and the assessment of the riparian rights was discussed.

Wyman brought out the statement that Dalton had never agreed to reduce the assessment on the riparian rights, but on the contrary had stated that the assessment on those rights ought instead to be increased.

There was another meeting with Lawrence this year. Lawrence had stated that the company was a little late last year, but that this year he proposed to keep with him and see if something could not be done in the way of a reduction.

Government Official Takes Hand in Santa Rosa Inquiry

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—United States District Attorney Robert T. Devlin this afternoon instructed his assistant, Benjamin McKinley, to appear at the official inquiry into the wreck of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Santa Rosa and follow the evidence brought out in the testimony now being taken by Captain Obed F. Bolles and John K. Bulger, inspectors of hulls and boilers for the government. It is freely intimated in official circles that the United States district attorney will institute criminal proceedings against the officials of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, if it develops that they were criminally negligent of the passengers who faced death for so many hours after the Santa Rosa struck the rocks, near Point Arguello, last Saturday.

The story of the wreck of the Santa Rosa was told today by officers of the steamer when the official inquiry was resumed before Steamboat Inspectors Bolles and Bulger. Captain J. O. Farla, the first witness, stated that on the night of the wreck he was called at 1 o'clock in the morning and again about 2:30. At that time he asked Mate Thomas for the distance between Point Arguello and Point Sur. Thomas, he said, replied that it was 107 miles, when as a matter of fact the distance was 117 miles. On this calculation Farla believed himself to be off Point Arguello. At that time they saw a light ashore which the mate thought belonged to the point. Immediately the captain noticed breakers ahead. He swung the ship's head off shore and signalled full speed astern. The vessel was then backed until stopped by the sand bar. He made several attempts to free the steamer, but failed. The weather, according to the witness, was then very hazy.

Condition of Gates Continues Unchanged

PARIS, July 12.—It was stated today that the condition of John V. Gates was unchanged from last evening, when the patient appeared a little brighter following the arrival of his son, Charles D. Gates, from New York. Dr. Gross said there was a chance for a favorable outcome of John V. Gates was clear headed today after a sleepless night. Dr. J. Russell Kennedy of London is expected here this evening to consult with Drs. Gros, Rogot and Vittet.

Charles G. Gates believes that his father will survive the present attack. He says that he has seen him as ill before and is confident that his powerful constitution assures recovery.

Police Exonerated By Coroner's Jury

Patrolmen Harry Teeple and John Gannaw were exonerated from all blame for the shooting of Robert Freudendahl by the Coroner's Jury this afternoon, the verdict being to the effect that Freudendahl came to the effect that Freudendahl would be killed as a result of a wound inflicted by Teeple while resisting arrest, that the shooting was done by the officer while in the discharge of his duty.

ALAMEDA, July 12.—Congressman Joseph R. Knowland and Mrs. Knowland left this morning on the Overland Limited for Washington, D. C. Mrs. Florence West, the mother of Mrs. Knowland, remained in Alameda with the children of the congressman. Upon the adjournment of Congress, Joseph Knowland and his wife will return to Alameda, where they will spend the summer.

Mare Island's Fate Rests With Hunter's Point Dock

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The retention of Mare Island as one of the great navy yards probably will depend ultimately upon the success of a navy department plan to acquire the dry dock at Hunter's Point, San Francisco bay, now the property of the Union Iron Works.

The difficulty appears to lie not so much in the price asked for the property as on the conditions that the Union Iron Works is disposed to impose regarding the future use of the dock by the merchant marine.

With the return from Europe of Charles Schwab, president of the company, it is expected the matter will be settled. It is declared at the navy department that the Mare Island yard never can be made safely approachable for big warships.

The department does not want to abandon the yard, which represents an expenditure of $18,000,000, so it is seeking to solve the problem by acquiring a dock on deep water nearby.

NEW YORK, July 12.—With many sick children dying for want of ice, ice riots broke out on the West Side today among the poor. Two Held to Answer for Murder of Helen Rumball certain parts of the defense's motion to quash and certain parts of the affidavits in its support. All of the affidavits presented by the defense alleged bias on the part of the grand jurors.

OROVILLE, July 12.—Arthur Lewis was held to answer today on a charge of murder in connection with the death of 13-year-old Helen Rumball, whose body was found June 20 in the attic of her home at Gridley. The same charge was lodged yesterday against Mrs. Helen Rumball, stepmother of the girl. Physicians testified at the preliminary hearing that a theory of suicide was untenable owing to the nature of the fractures of the girl's neck.

The defense appealed from an order to that effect, but said it might abandon such a course later. It asked ten days to prepare a bill of exceptions to the order of last Friday, when Judge Bordwell said it was within his jurisdiction to try the cases against the accused brothers. The time was allowed.
STRICKEN OUT.
The defense moved that certain sections of the counter affidavits by grand jurors, filed by the prosecution denying bias, be stricken out and the court so ordered.
The court was asked to fix a day to hear arguments regarding the affidavits of the defense and to summon the grand jurors to testify, but refused to do so.
The motion of the defense to file the transcript of evidence taken before the grand jury in support of its contentions against the striking out of certain parts of its motion and affidavits caused long arguments with the prosecution.
It is possible that the McNamara may enter their pleas late today. The prosecution desires an early date fixed for trial, while the defense prefers some time in the fall. It will be Judge Bordwell's duty to fix the time.

Pilots to Represent the United States at International Balloon Races.
Trip Made in Record Breaking Time and in the Wake of Storms.

KANSAS CITY, July 12.—With the balloons St. Louis IV and Million Population Club, both of St. Louis, rest the honors of winning first and second places in the national elimination balloon race which started from this city Monday evening, and the right of joining Alan R. Hawley of New York in representing the United States in the international balloon races for the James Gordon Bennett cup October 5 next, goes to the St. Louis team.
Official returns of the race will not be in for several days. There is little doubt, however, first place will go to the St. Louis IV, which landed near Lapaz Junction, Indiana, and second place to the Million Population Club, which came down at La Crosse, Ind.

As soon as each balloon landed its pilot forwarded all instruments and records of the flight to the headquarters of the National Aero Association in New York. The official winners will be announced when these records have been checked up.
ALTITUDE RECORD.
The altitude record of the race as well as the distance record is believed to have been made by Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm and Lieutenant John F. Hart, pilot and aide in the St. Louis IV, whose instruments recorded a maximum altitude of 22,000 feet. The balloons, their landing places, and unofficial distances as compiled are:
St. Louis IV—Pilot, Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm; aid, Lieutenant John F. Hart; landed near Lapaz Junction, Indiana; 525 miles.
Million Population Club—Pilot, Captain John Berry; aid, Paul McCullough; landed at La Crosse, Ind.; 486 miles.
Miss Sophie—Pilot, Wm. Asman; aid, John M. O'Dell; landed near Franklin Park, suburb of Chicago; 445 miles.
Buckeye—Pilot, J. H. Wade Jr.; aid, R. H. Emerson; landed four miles east of New Holland, Ill.; 315 miles.
Topska II—Pilot, Frank M. Jacobs; aid, R. H. Emerson; landed near La Harpe, Ill.; 180 miles.
New York—Pilot, Clifford B. Harmon; aid, Augustus Post; landed at Fremont, Iowa; 158 miles.
Kansas City—Pilot, Captain H. E. Honeywell; aid, John Watts; landed near Linby, Iowa; 180 miles.

RECORD SPEED.
CHICAGO, July 12.—Details were obtained today of the trip of the balloon St. Louis No. 4, in charge of Lieutenant Frank P. Lahm and Lieutenant J. F. Hart, which left Kansas City at 4:50 p. m., and landed at Lapaz, Ind., sixteen miles from South Bend, at 4:15 p. m., yesterday.
The balloon represented the Aeronautic Club of the National Guard of Missouri. Lieutenant Hart said: "We made the trip in record breaking speed and were between 15,000 and 22,000 feet from the earth during the entire journey. Our voyage was anything but pleasant. Soon after leaving Kansas City, Monday afternoon, we encountered a series of thunder storms, which made it necessary for us to rise above the clouds to get away from the rain. The storm seemed to follow us all through Missouri and Illinois. We crossed the Mississippi river early Tuesday morning. Our balloon behaved handsomely under the circumstances, although we were kept busy all the time. We never saw any of the other balloons after leaving Kansas City. The balloon landed without mishap in a large field and slept last night in a farmhouse. The highest altitude we reached was 22,000 feet."

GOVERNOR REBUKES REED FOR OFFENSIVE QUESTION
Attorney Told to Modify Statements;
Witness Declares Complainants Are Ignorant of Changes

BERKELEY, July 12.—Remarks of Attorney Charles Wesley Reed, which were declared by opposing counsel to be grossly insulting to Principal Douglas Keith, caused Governor Johnson to administer a rebuke to Reed at this morning's session of the investigation at the California institution for the Deaf and the Blind.
"Was it not Mr. Keith's former duty at this institution to see that the potatoes got to the cook and that the dishes were washed?" asked Attorney Reed of C. S. Perry, an instructor, who was the first witness of the morning.
It was during the questioning of Perry relative to the duties of Keith as steward, prior to October 1, 1909, that the question was asked. It brought forth a spirited remonstrance from Attorney Warren Olney, Jr., representing Keith, and an admonition from Governor Johnson that Reed discontinue such a line of examination.

OLNEY PROTESTS.
Olney protested that Reed's aim was intended to be degrading and insulting to Keith, rather than for the proper purpose of getting at the facts regarding the management of the institution. He desired to amend the nature of Keith's employment at the school up to the time of his appointment as principal, in connection with the charge of the graduate complainant that Keith did not possess the legal qualifications to become head of the institution.
C. S. Perry, Ph.D., who has been a member of the board of directors, occupied the witness stand during most of the session, and was questioned by Attorney Reed as to the retirement of William Wilkison as superintendent principal on pension to be paid for three years out of the Durham bequest, and relative to the appointment of Keith as his successor.

DEFENDS ACTION.
Director Reed defended the action of the board in both matters, testifying to his belief that the services of Wilkison as advisor were necessary, and that Keith possessed the qualifications as a teacher necessary to make him eligible to the principalship.
Reed testified that he was appointed by Governor Gillett soon after that executive took office. He declared he had kept closely in touch with the affairs of the institution. He related the circumstances of Keith's application for the principalship in case of a vacancy, and said that shortly afterwards Wilkison informed Keith that he "would be for him," and that he had talked over with Keith the matter of the latter's qualifications.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION.
The witness stated that Keith had told him he had taught a great deal in emergencies at the institution, particularly for special instruction outside of the classrooms.
"I did not inquire as to the subjects which Mr. Keith had taught," said Reed. "He told me how long he had given special instruction at the school for several years. The board of directors had little to do with the teaching department. Principal Keith kept the books after his appointment and attended to many of the financial affairs."
The director was closely questioned by Attorney Reed in regard to presenting the reports to state officials of expenditures from the Durham fund. The witness said that the board had not required by the state to make such reports; that the state controller had declared that that request was not a state fund, the same as an appropriation.
"The directors are fully accountable for this fund," "his condition is shown in regular reports."

REPORT NOT EXPECTED.
Questioned by the counsel as to making a detailed report of expenditures, Reed said he did not understand that such a report was expected and that in fact the state controller, when he had discussed the matter, had given his opinion that a detailed report of expenditures from the fund was not required.
"The books of the institution's treasurer," said Reed, "show the condition of the fund at all times. The income from the fund, during the last fiscal year, was $384.88. Out of this the salary of Principal Emeritus Wilkison was paid, as well as other salaries. Such expenditures of trust funds were discussed with Controller Nye, who stated that there was no objection to this use of the money."
"Trust funds have been used for payment of salaries which the state does not pay," witness, in telling of Wilkison's retirement, declared that the board believed the aged educator should be made principal emeritus so that his services as advisor to the institution might be called upon and the best interests of the school subserved.
"The board thought it expedient to keep Mr. Wilkison where the directors or Principal Keith could consult him relative to the institution's affairs, and we thought we had the right to use the Durham fund for this purpose," said Reed.

COMPARED TO U. C.
"The University of California appoints emeritus professors in much the same way, although they may be paid in a different manner. I have often thought the Carnegie fund, which is available for some of the aged instructors of this institution, some of which have been attacked in this investigation."
"The charge has been made that teachers were few and the classes too large at this school. This is mainly because of the large fund. We are getting more than $10,000, but this money could not be obtained from the state and the Durham fund was used. It would be better if the classes were reduced in size, but this would require better state support."
Wilkison stated to the board that he needed some assistance upon his retirement, as he had men with losses in the San Francisco fire. I did not inquire into his private financial affairs."
IGNORANT OF CHARGES.
Witness Reed replied with indignation to the remark of the examining attorney relative to the complaints made by graduates relative to the institution's management.
"These complainants have left the institution and do not know what changes have since been made or what the institution is trying to do. This is an investigation and it is not my place to pass upon the justice or injustice of certain things at this time."

ORAL INSTRUCTION.
Instructor Perry was questioned this morning as to the oral method of instruction employed partly by Principal Keith, and declared that it was being tried out on new pupils. He said the discipline of the school was good, so far as he had observed. He paid a tribute to William Caldwell, head of the deaf department, as a capable educator. As to the need of the sign language, Perry stated that a knowledge of it was necessary to fully understand the pupils and get in close touch and sympathy with them.
It is a tradition of the school, he said, for the principal to be a teacher, and that the head should be able to teach. The courses of study at the California institution, he said, were prepared by the teachers, the burden of the work falling principally upon Caldwell.

ARGUE ON EVIDENCE.
Considerable argument among the attorneys took place relative to the admission of testimony concerning the appointment of Jones of the Ohio institution, who was not conversant at first with the sign language, but who was given an assistant designated as principal to employ the sign language and have charge of the teaching department pending the complete qualifications of Jones to take up this work.
Attorney Olney insisted that the same student obtained here, Instructor Caldwell being an expert in the sign language. Olney said that technically there was no violation of the law in Keith's appointment as the principal, although enough experience to bring him within the statute.

Witness Perry stated his belief that a principal of such an institution should have a liberal education. He did not know whether or not Keith was a college graduate, but had been told that he had attended Oxford college in England.

REPORT NOT CLEAR.
W. E. Griffiths, treasurer for the institution for the last seven years, was examined as to his report by both Reed and Governor Johnson yesterday afternoon. The contention was made that the report was not sufficiently clear.
C. S. Perry, Ph.D., who has been a teacher of the deaf for about 40 years, held that highly trained teachers were needed in institutions for the deaf. He said the oral method is gaining ground, but is not the sign system.
Perry commended the interchange of classes by teachers, practiced by Keith, but discovered Keith's discontinuance of moral instruction. Governor Johnson questioned Perry closely to find his opinion of Keith's proficiency in the sign language and his participation in the teaching of the pupils, but Perry evaded nearly every form of question along these lines.

Summoning Miss Mary Eastman and Janitor Herman Luckner who had previously testified, for a few moments, Attorney Reed asked each if they had, after Keith was appointed, received an advance salary and later had to pay back the amount of increase. Both admitted that such was the case.
A suggestion was made to Governor Johnson by Attorney Olney that the instructor be questioned by giving each a list of the subjects which he had taught with the Governor privately, on account of embarrassment of some of the instructors. The motion was denied by Governor Johnson.
"It was some time in deliberating how to conduct this investigation," said Governor Johnson, in discussing the proposal to change the procedure. "Lack of power to take definite action here and there, methods which prove best to follow were the result. I did not know on a public hearing because I did not know of any other way which would prove equal in fairness to both."

YOUTHFUL NURSE

Diploma and Graduation Pin Buried With Her by Request.

One of the saddest deaths was the passing away of Miss Hollis Bernice Simpson, a graduate trained nurse only 19 years old, from the Alameda hospital on Sunday, July 9, 1911. Miss Simpson had just completed her studies and would have left Saturday, July 15.
At her request her diploma, clasped in her hands, and her graduation pin attached to her breast, were buried with her.
She had served her three years faithfully and was stricken with typhoid fever three weeks ago. She was beloved by all who knew her and her funeral was very large and the services by the Rev. Mr. Goodspeed were impressive. Her three favorite hymns were sung by four young ladies: "Lead, Kindly Light," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "Abide With Me." Interment was at Mount View cemetery. The floral offerings were many.

MISS YORK TELLS OF ENGAGEMENT

Daughter of School Commissioner to Be Bride of S. F. Bonner.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Fannie York, daughter of R. B. S. York, of the Board of Education, and Stephen Fowler Bonner of Berkeley, was made yesterday at a luncheon at the Idora Park grill. Miss York entertained twelve guests in honor of her house guest, Miss Lella Rutland, and took advantage of the occasion to make the announcement. The wedding will probably take place some time in September.
Miss York is well known in local circles, being a graduate of the Oakland High School and prominent in musical ranks where she has been a member of the Prelude Club. Many affairs are to be given in Miss York's honor, including a linen shower by the Prelude Club in the near future. The groom-to-be is a prominent young business man of Berkeley.

ash heaps that were once their homes, having had nothing to eat since yesterday noon.

FLAMES SPREAD RAPIDLY.
The fire, under the influence of a fifty-mile wind, spread with such rapidity that men and women dashed from their houses, dropping such bundles of valuables and clothing as they had started to pack. Many people living on the shore side of the town started for safety along the beach, but within ten minutes the heat was so intense that they were driven into the water and continued their way wading along the shore.
The heaviest loss was at the H. M. Louis Sons' Company, of which Congressman George A. Loud of the Tenth Michigan district is the head.

LOSS VERY HEAVY.
The company's loss is nearly three-quarters of a million dollars. The property consisted of two saw mills, planing mill, shingle mill, bolt mill, lumber yard, cedar yard, pump houses, stores and residences. The total losses are probably in excess of one and a half million dollars.
The fire originated in a slab yard in Oscoda and in half an hour the entire town was afire. The fire quickly jumped the Au Sable river and soon Au Sable was also in the grip of a blaze that reached the town limits on every side.

FLAMES 100 FEET HIGH.
A passenger train on the Detroit & Mackinac railway got into the town by running on an old lumber spur and arrived here at midnight. Flames were then running a hundred feet in the air, declared the passengers, and the intense heat scorched the sides of the train and cracked the windows.
A special train carrying fire apparatus from Bay City to Alpena in response to a call for help from that city, jumped the track in trying to pass around the two towns and was held until nearly midnight before the track was repaired. If then proceeded, as the fire at Alpena was said to be still dangerous.

The high wind was general throughout northern Michigan last night and from all over the district came reports of heavy fires fanned to huge proportions by the breeze, which is reported at from forty to sixty miles at various points.
BODIES BURNED TO CRISP.
BAY CITY, Mich., July 12.—The only news from the fire-swept district available this morning was from East Tawas, Oscoda and Au Sable are said to be completely destroyed and East Tawas was taking care of many refugees. A. P. Jacobs, a Chicago traveling man, who arrived today and took the train, said a number of bodies burned and blackened beyond recognition found on the streets of Oscoda and Au Sable today.
REFUGEES AT PORT HURON.
PORT HURON, Mich., July 12.—Two hundred and eighty fire victims from Oscoda, principally women and children, arrived in Port Huron today on the steam barge Niko, Captain Ralph D. Myers of Tonawanda, N. Y. They left Oscoda last night, some managing to get on board the vessel when it cut loose, both bow and stern being on fire. Many

At Richmond forty Michigan Central cars and a bridge were destroyed, and at Oakwood an overhead bridge was burned.
Reports were received at Alpena that Bolton and Metz, which were wiped out a few years ago, are again threatened, as is also Millersburg, a town of about 1800.

Drags Three Boys From River, Making Total of 88 in Three Years.

NEW YORK, July 11.—For the 88th time in the last two or three years Captain C. Johnson of the board of health boat Edison, plying between North Brother Island and East One Hundred and Thirty-second street, figured in a rescue from drowning. Captain Johnson's boat started from the island about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon about a dozen employees of the island aboard, when he saw about 600 feet out from the shore a boy stripped to his underclothing swimming.
Although the youngster seemed to be almost played out he was headed for the middle of the East river. Captain Johnson, who had seen aboard and then Captain Johnson and two of his crew went after the boys further out, in a small boat.
Dr. J. C. Atkins of North Brother Island, who was aboard the Edison, pulled all three boys around and they were taken to the island. Horace Appel, 18 years old, of 413 East One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, was the worst off of the trio. He and George Sims, a year older, said they had been paddling about at the foot of East One Hundred and Thirty-ninth street and learning to swim with the help of the log when the tide gripped the log and carried it out to deep water. The third boy, John Appel, 15 years old, of 413 East One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, heard their cries and was swimming to help them when picked up by the Edison.
The boys were taken back to Manhattan later in the day and remained aboard until friends who had been notified brought them clothing.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS DISCUSS PLANS TO BUILD

Board Deems it Inexpedient to Erect Any Temporary Structures.

HIGH SCHOOL BONDS TO BE SOLD AT ONCE

The City Council Requested to Dispose of Them as Soon as Possible.

Representatives from the various districts of this city appeared before the directors of the Board of Education at an adjourned meeting held last evening, when matters pertaining to the welfare of the schools of this community were discussed. The question as to the advisability of erecting temporary school houses to alleviate the congested conditions in a number of the schools, before the bonds are sold, was not deemed by the board. Upon the motion of ex-officio member of the board, John Forrest, the building, sites and equipment committee was requested to look into the matter of the schools which are in need of immediate attention.

Harold Everhard, one of the residents of the College avenue district, stated that his children were compelled to attend school in Berkeley, owing to the crowded condition of the school in his district. He asserted that it necessarily forced him to pay not only the school tax in Oakland, but also in Berkeley, and that it was not fair to the citizens of that territory to send the boys and girls outside the city for school accommodations.

McCLYMONDS' VIEWS.

Superintendent of Schools McClymonds said that it is folly to build temporary buildings before the bonds are sold. "We can't start anything before the bonds are disposed of," he declared.

"I advise caution," said Forrest. "Don't be extravagant with other people's money. I would suggest that you make arrangements to build the urgent schools at once. Where are the most urgent cases?" asked Forrest.

Secretary McClymonds replied that they were too numerous to mention. He named the Peralta Heights, College avenue and Dewey schools. They will be investigated by the building, sites and equipment committee and a report will be made in the near future.

The board voted to advertise for bids on the new bath house to be erected in the athletic field for the boys of the Oakland High School. Upon motion of Director Annie Florence Brown, the matter of building additional rooms in the Manual Training and Commercial High School was referred to the building, sites and equipment committee for consideration.

BOYLE VOICES VIEWS.

Director Harry S. Boyle requested that he be invited to accompany the building, sites and equipment committee when they are selecting sites for the new buildings. He had, at a previous meeting, been denied the right of serving on the committee and made a second appeal last evening. John Forrest suggested that his request be granted.

"I won't stand for a program in this board of education," said Boyle. "I ought to have been placed on that building, sites and equipment committee, as I just happen to know something about that particular line of work, and I don't know anything about the work which will devolve upon me in the other committees. I want fair play and I want to serve the people of Oakland to the best of my ability. I want to give them the best judgment that I possess."

"Be fair with work on all public buildings," said Forrest. "Give all a chance."

AROUSES INTEREST.

Much interest was aroused by Director Boyle in the matter of electing employees for one year. He stated that there is no law that elects employees for a year and that it was illegal for the board to do so.

Superintendent McClymonds said that the teachers were not officers and that they have never been considered as such.

The matter of the legality of office-holding was referred to the district attorney. It will be presented to him by the members of the rules and regulations committee.

Gotham Reports Efforts to Reconcile Ethel Barrymore and Husband.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Ethel Barrymore, after all, may decide not to press divorce proceedings against her husband, Russell Griswold Colt. It is learned that her friends and family are making every effort to effect a reconciliation between the young couple and that Miss Barrymore is seriously considering dropping her proposed suit.

Friends of the actress assert that she still loves Colt, and friends of Colt declare that he is as fond as ever of his wife and that when he has dined out evenings he has shown his guests her picture and that of his wife admiringly. Colt himself expects there will be no trouble. He is preparing the Mamaronock home for her return, as the couple leased it until the 1st of August during her trip. The 2-year-old son is in the East with his father and no word has yet come requesting that the child be taken to its mother.

Mrs. Russell G. Colt (Ethel Barrymore) still maintains silence regarding her reported action for divorce against her wealthy young husband.

She was seen by a reporter at the Macdonough theater after repeated attempts to coth with her at the Hotel St. Mark had been ward off by her French maid.

"I have nothing to say, absolutely nothing," said Miss Barrymore.

FINDS WAY TO END RHEUMATIC PANGS

Local Man Has Experience With New Method of Fighting Ill.

George B. Peterson Tells How Munyon Method Conquered Pain.

One of the strongest endorsements of the new Munyon uric acid treatment that has yet been made in San Francisco was given yesterday by Mr. George B. Peterson, who lives in Elmhurst, but is well known in San Francisco. Mr. Peterson said:

"It is impossible for me to tell how much I think of this new Munyon treatment for rheumatism. Any man or woman who is suffering from this disease, or from any excess of uric acid in the system, certainly is making a great mistake if they do not try this new method. It worked wonders for me. I suffered most intensely from rheumatism in all my joints, and my arms and limbs were swollen and very painful. I tried nearly every remedy on the druggists' shelves in an effort to get relief, but nothing I took did me any good. I heard of several people who had been cured by Munyon's treatment, and as a very last resource decided to take the treatment. I came in here and was treated so nicely by Munyon's physicians that some way I began to have hope. Within a few days after taking the treatment I felt better, and inside of two weeks the rheumatism had entirely disappeared and has not come back. I certainly am glad to recommend Munyon to any person who is suffering from illness of any sort."

Munyon's work in San Francisco has attracted much attention here and the crowds that call on him at his headquarters in the Owl drug store in the Phelan building are constantly growing in number. A number of persons have published statements relative to success with Munyon's treatment, and this list is constantly growing larger. Among those who yesterday consented to have their names used in praise of Munyon and his medicines were: Mr. A. J. Itsell, who lives at 1868 O'Farrell street, San Francisco, and Mr. C. H. Farmer of 686 Second street, Oakland.—Adv.

BAIL OF J. J. HERRIN IS RAISED TO $10,000

VALLEJO, July 12.—The bail of J. J. Herrin, a young cigar merchant of this city, who is now awaiting trial in the Superior Court at Napa, on a charge preferred by the mother of a 15-year-old Napa girl, has been raised from $4000 to $10,000. This was done at the request of District Attorney Coombs, made before Judge Gasford.

Coombs represented to the court that he had reason to believe that the accused might not be on hand when his case was called for trial.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Herrin and Supervisor Henry J. Widenmann and two other prominent local merchants signed as sureties.

3000 STRAY DOGS KILLED IN YEAR

Wealthy Boston Residents Are Official Catchers of the Municipality.

BOSTON, July 12.—Three thousand stray dogs have been killed during the last twelve months by Boston's official dog catchers. The official catchers are Huntington Smith, Julian Codman and Dr. Frank J. Sullivan, all wealthy citizens. They are officers of the Animal Rescue League and volunteered their services. The dogs have been picked up by the league employees.

Although the law prescribes a liberal fee to the dog catchers for every animal killed, the three designated officials will not present a bill to the city, as the laws definitely states that they must themselves do the catching and killing.

SOCIETY GIRL IS RUNAWAY VICTIM

Miss Enid Williams Is Killed When Thrown From Seat to Roadway.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Miss Enid Williams, 31 years old, daughter of the late Evan Williams, who was a prominent mining man in the early Comstock days, was killed in a stage coach at Blairden, Plumas county, yesterday morning.

Attorney Evan Williams Jr., connected with the law firm of Chickering & Son, left for Oroville as soon as word was received in this city, and brought the body of his sister to the family home at 210 Spruce street on a special train last night.

Miss Williams and her mother had been spending a two weeks' vacation at Blairden, which is one of the new summer resorts on the Western Pacific line in the Sierra Nevada.

Mrs. Williams returned to San Francisco yesterday morning and Miss Enid was en route from the hotel to the depot to catch a train for Lake Tahoe, where she was going to visit relatives, when the accident happened which caused her death.

WILD, RUN DOWN GRADE.

The stage which was to take the passengers from the hotel to the depot had arrived and Miss Williams was sitting alone in the stage waiting for the train. In some manner not explained in the meager dispatches received, last night one of the passengers frightened the horses and they started on a wild run down the steep grade which led up to the stage.

The stage careened and jumped about so badly that Miss Williams lost her hold on the seat and fell to the rocky roadway, fracturing her skull and receiving internal injuries.

ALESHIRE PLANS CANAL DEFENSE

The Quartermaster - General Returns From Study of the Big Cut.

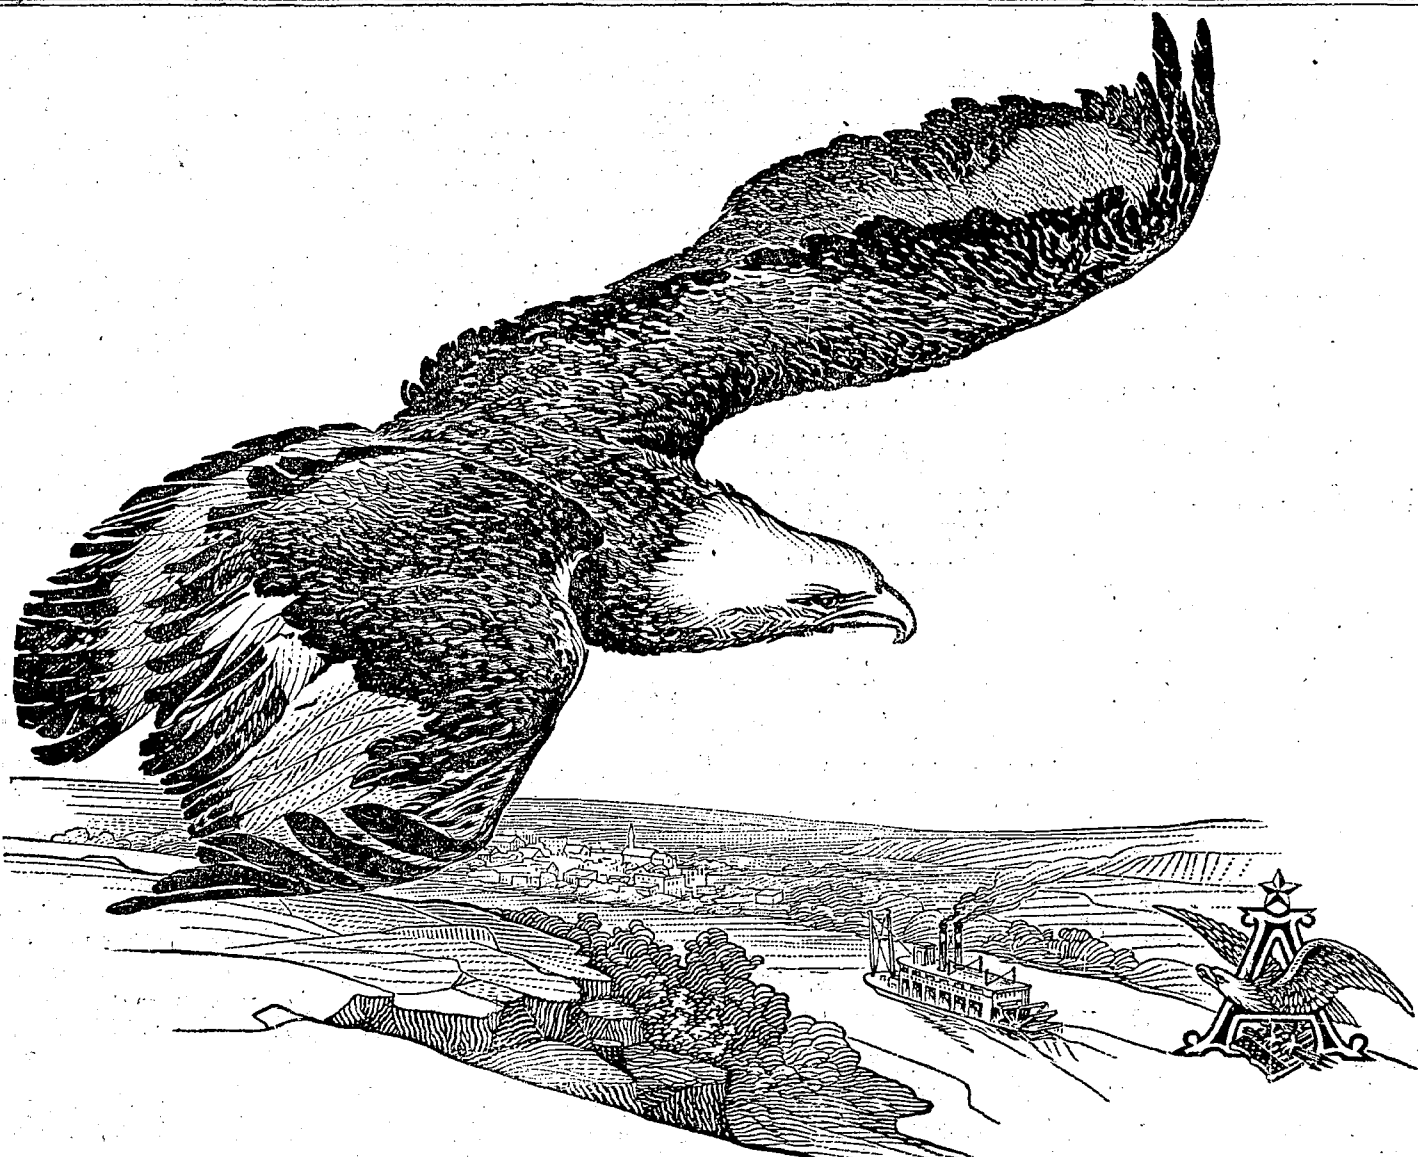

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Gen. Aleshaire, quartermaster general of the army, has returned from Panama, where he inspected the Canal zone with a view to locating quarters for the soldiers who will guard the waterway that will sever the Americas.

Plans for fortifying the great ditch are fast taking concrete form. Secretary Stimson and General Wood, chief of staff of the army, are now en route to Panama, to perfect the scheme of armament.

While the location of the military homes cannot be definitely decided until this conclusion is reached the quartermaster general is now possessed of sufficient knowledge to enable him to house the soldiers in accordance with whatever plan of fortifications may be devised.

so badly that Miss Williams lost her hold on the seat and fell to the rocky roadway, fracturing her skull and receiving internal injuries.

When picked up she was unconscious. The injured girl was put aboard a special train made up of an engine and freight car, which started on a wild run to Portola to secure medical aid. Miss Williams died before reaching that place.

Impure Drinking Water

Is the direct cause of typhoid, malaria, dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera morbus and all the other fatal hot weather complaints. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is prescribed by doctors as a sure preventive and cure.

If you are going to the seashore or countryside for your summer vacation TAKE A BOTTLE OF "DUFFY'S" WITH YOU. Most summer hotels and rural dwellings depend for their drinking water upon "the old well." A wealth of romance has been weaved around the well in both song and story, but modern medical science has shown that nine times out of ten "the old well" is a breeding place for countless typhoid germs and other virulent bacilli.

The cause for this is readily understood by the fact that the sewage from the outhouses and waste matter from the kitchen permeate their way through the ground to the well.

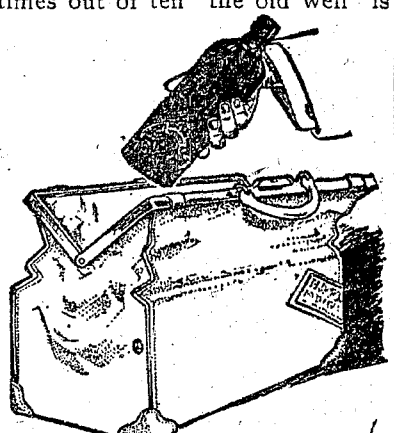

The same is true, and in a larger way, with the streams from which the villages, towns and cities draw their supplies, and it behooves every one to be careful with his drinking water, especially at this time of the year, when so much is used.

Keep the system in such good condition that these germs will be unable to obtain a foothold.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

STANDARD OF PURITY AND EXCELLENCE SINCE 1860. as a tonic stimulant and body builder is one of the greatest strength givers known to science. By its building and healing properties it assists in restoring tissues in a gradual, healthy, natural manner. As a nerve tonic it has no equal. It cures dyspepsia and biliousness, aids digestion, brings restful sleep, stimulates the blood, invigorates the brain and assists in freeing the entire system from the dread germs of malaria and low fevers.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the Government as a medicine during the Spanish-American war. Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

WILL DISINHERITS RODEN CHILDREN

Wife and Daughter of Late Merchant Are the Sole Beneficiaries.

REDWOOD CITY, July 12.—The will of the late W. H. Roden, the San Francisco commission merchant, who died last Saturday after an operation, was filed late yesterday. His wife, Viola E. Roden, and his daughter, Mrs. Mamie Monges of Menlo Park, are named as the sole beneficiaries, and he completely disinherits his son, W. H. Roden, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Bessie Empey, who live at 2901 Pierce street, San Francisco. The value of the estate is about $150,000. It consists of a beautiful country home at Fair Oaks, livestock and personal property, valued at $40,000, three lots on Divisadero street in San Francisco worth $20,000, and real estate in Seattle. The palatial Roden mansion at Fair Oaks, with its vast parks and gardens, was bequeathed to Mrs. Roden. The rest of the estate was divided equally between his wife and Mrs. Monges.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF PIONEER WOMAN HELD

Funeral services of Mrs. Maria M. Myers, widow of C. G. Myers, were held in Oakland yesterday with interment in Mountain View cemetery. Mrs. Myers was 80 years old. Myers died a year ago at the same age. Mrs. Myers came to California by the way of Panama in 1849, following her husband, who trekked across the desert in 1847. She and her husband were pioneer residents of Forest Hill, Placer county, where Myers was a justice of the peace and former sheriff of Placer county.

BRANDS ROOSEVELT'S TRIP BLOW TO HUMANITARIANISM

Minnie Maddern Fiske Declares Former President Bad Example; Urges Support of Oakland S. P. C. A.

(By MINNIE MADDERN FISKE.)

EDITOR TRIBUNE.—A rather brusque and plain spoken correspondent writes that "ex-president" Roosevelt's famous African hunting exhibition was a disgrace to civilization.

It has been suggested, I believe, that some sort of public protest be made in this connection, this protest to be signed by thousands of names, and bear tangible witness to the fact that thousands of American men and women do not regard Mr. Roosevelt as the best example of the American manhood, enlightenment and progressiveness. A distinguished man has recently said: "I doubt whether there is any active anti-cruelty in this country who would be willing to sign such a protest."

The most serious blow dealt the humanitarian movement in modern times is the blow it has received at the hands of ex-President Roosevelt. Men and women the world over who most appreciate the better qualities of our ex-chief executive, cannot sympathize with nor admire his African exploit and its approval by a magazine of unimpeachable respectability.

MOVEMENT GROWING.

The humanitarian movement is growing and mankind is becoming more enlightened in respect to its duty toward the dumb creation. Not long ago, however, a distinguished American declared: "The government of man over his God-given domination is a failure. It is without intelligence. It is without justice. It is without mercy. It is not to be administered in the interest of the governed, and yet, with few shining exceptions, the pulpit fails to cry aloud—to lift up its voice like a trumpet to teach man his duty to the helpless subjects of his rule."

Thousands of American boys desire to emulate the ex-President. How is it possible to measure the mischievous effects of the jungle enterprise upon reckless, and often naturally cruel youth? Small bravery is required in the killing of wild animals, and no atom of nobility. In the matter of the destruction of animal life, it may be the butcher is no nobler than the athlete, the hunter, the sportsman, or the sportsman. One may at least say in defense of the butcher that he is indifferent. The hunter owns to a thrill of rapture as his bullet pierces the heart of the bird, or his knife tears the throat of a frightened deer. Few sound, intelligent or enlightened people can deny that the humanitarian movement is good. The humanitarian idea embodies the growth of morality, a steady tendency towards tranquillity, harmony, co-operation, abstinence from harm to any creature, courtesy, kindness, justice, mercy to the helpless—in short, humanity in its best expression.

REVERSE OF RIGHT.

The question arises how far should a man of great celebrity feel it incumbent upon himself to restrain any public exhibition of a natural instinct, which such exhibition implies danger as a menace to ethics accepted and taught by many, enlightened and worthy persons. We all know the status in the calendar of crime of the destruction of life. How far are we sure that we have moral right to destroy animal life, since man no longer denies the fact that all life emanates from the same principle, and that all living things belong to a universal kinship? We all know that dangerous animals must be destroyed when they menace the safety of men, but in this destruction there should be an economy of cruelty. To consider the destruction of life as a pleasurable sport is hardly in harmony with progressive thought of any sort. As Frederick Harrison has written: "The death and pain inflicted should accord with the rights of civilization, and the ultimate protection of the vanguard of the animal world as a whole, of which man is a part."

MOB THREATENS AGED PRISONER

Sensation Created When Man Is Led Into Town With a Rope Around Neck.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., July 12.—A sensation was created here yesterday afternoon when Thomas Ham, 61 years old, was led into town by police officials with a rope around his neck and his arms securely bound. Ham is charged with assault on three little girls whose ages range from 3 to 12.

He was arrested this morning near Shannon, Ky., and locked in a barn belonging to Ben Woods, a farmer, pending the arrival of officers from Maysville. Ham was later discovered by Woods hanging from a rafter with a rope around his neck. He was cut down and revived. Feeling is high against him and mob violence is feared.

MISTAKE COSTS LIVES IN DESPERATE BATTLE

PUEBLA, Mexico, July 12.—Four rurales and two Maderistas were killed and twenty-four other persons were wounded at Tienda de Bayada, near Metepec, Saturday, when forty-five rurales stood off 1000 Maderistas.

The engagement resulted from a misunderstanding of the motives of the Maderistas as they approached the town. The rurales, believing that they intended to sack, fire, and the Maderistas replied. When the rurales realized their error, they ceased firing. Among the dead was a revolutionary leader.

MANY LOSE LIVES IN DISASTROUS FLOODS

GUADAJALAJARA, Mex., July 12.—The towns of Lagos, Encarnacion and San Juan de los Lagos, in the eastern part of Jalisco, are inundated as the result of six days of almost continuous rains. Two churches and one hundred houses are reported wrecked at Lagos. The steel bridge on the Mexican Central railroad at Lagos was damaged. Entire blocks of houses were wrecked at Encarnacion and San Juan de los Lagos. Loss of life is reported.

only the guardian. Above all else, those who inflict suffering and death upon the animal world should search their own souls faithfully, and be sure that there lurk therein no traces of enjoyment; no diabolical passion or vanity or ambition. And it is proper to ask if Theodore Roosevelt was moved by any of these impulses and emotions in his death-giving course through the African jungle.

LOVER OF NATURE?

The hunter will tell you that he is a lover of nature. No statement could be more absurd. The following was written by a real lover of nature: "Go out, my brother, to the wilderness—out to the virgin loveliness of untouched nature, where sodden man has not yet littered the wilds with his 'improvements'; loiter among winding streams and watch the shadows sleeping in the quivering pools and the water birds splashing up and sailing away out of sight; see the blossoms opening their bright petals to the sun and pouring out their sweetness into the radiant air (the cowslip, the violet, the wild rose and all that dazzling array that makes nature so incomparably fair in the spring); listen to the bees on the sweet-scented willows, the tinkle of distant bells, the love-song of the catbird in the thicket, and the sad, sweet longing of the dove. He down on the bank in the sun and listen to the low murmur of the waters and the footsteps of the breeze on the tree tops; and beyond, through the rifts of drowsy greenery, see the beautiful blue sky, oh, how beautiful and blue, with its silvery fleets sailing silently out of the west! And then, if you honestly feel like killing something, feel as if you must become the author of an ill-smelling carcass of some kind, go home, my brother, as straightway as you can, and hang yourself by the neck until you are dead."

FORM OF TORTURE.

Here in central California, we are not very far removed from the latest bull-fighting. No human being who thinks can deny that bull-fighting is perhaps the most cowardly and dastardly form of animal torture possible to conceive. Half-starved horses worn out by faithful service to mankind and costing from 15 to 20 pesos, are led into the bull ring. The horses are blindfolded and forced on to the horns of the bull. They cannot see where they are going. The bull rips them open and then pursues the men with the red capes. Did it end there it were less tragic, but the horses' protruding bowgels are pushed in, their gaping wounds are stuffed with cotton and they are sewed up. Then the rider mounts the poor beast and once more it is forced back into the ring for fresh mutilation and torture. Worse still, it is frequently kept a whole week in agony and again led into the ring. Is not this a brave, noble sport?

The bull ring in Mexico is practically supported by American tourists. To admit this fact is to be ashamed of the race to which one belongs. It is the power of the Americans, men and women, to abolish bull-fighting in Mexico. They have only to cease patronizing the sport. Americans are urged to co-operate with the efforts of the Mexican Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to stop this atrocious and immoral pastime.

The Mexican society has this to say to the American tourist: "In the name of humanity and decency, cut out the bull-fighting from your program in Mexico. I am sure that every thinking citizen, man and woman, of Oakland, feels it a sacred duty to become a member of the Oakland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty."

Human societies are usually supported by noble souls who cannot afford their gifts.

CRIPPEN'S LAWYER UNDER SUSPENSION

Arthur Newton Is Barred From Practice in England for One Year.

LONDON, July 12.—Arthur Newton, who was found guilty of professional misconduct in his defense of the wife murderer Dr. Hawley E. Crippen, by a committee of the law society, was today suspended from the practice for one year, and ordered by the divisional court to pay the costs of the inquiry.

Newton was alleged to have abused his privilege as a lawyer by aiding and abetting Horatio Bottomly, editor of a weekly publication and member of parliament for the south division of Hackney, to publish false statements regarding the case, and also to have aided the Daily Chronicle to give publicity to similar untruths.

FAIRBANKS RATES TAFT AS AMONG GREATEST

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 12.—"Taft succeeds in winning his campaign for universal peace he will win with it the world. It will be the crowning glory of his achievements," said former Vice-President C. W. Fairbanks, before the Christian Endeavorers last night. Among the resolutions adopted was one declaring for a countrywide anti-peace campaign under the slogan "A nationless nation by the 4th of July, 1920."

Freckles

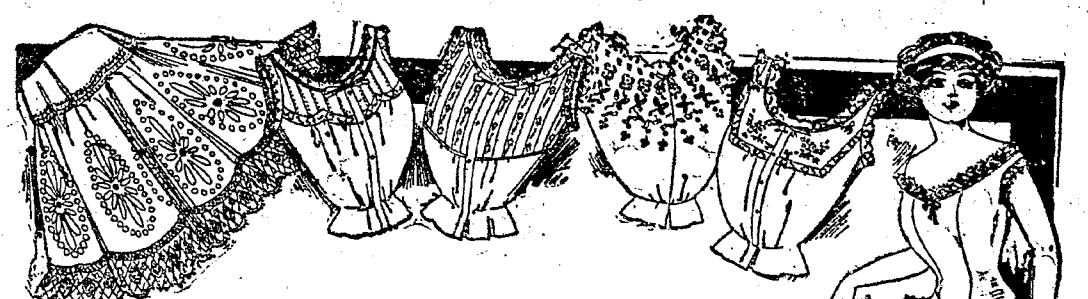

Freckle-Face! Freckle-Face! Freckle-Face! FRECKLE-FACE! How Do You Like It?

If you have freckles you need Kintho! That's as sure as freckles! Hot summer winds and sunshine bring them out in all their hideousness, and Kintho is ready for you whenever toilet articles are sold. A two-ounce package of Kintho is enough for most light cases, but the most obstinate freckles are easily and quickly removed, under a guarantee of money back if it fails. It is a wonderful skin medicine. It will not only help give the freckles a push, but it is delightful for toilet use.

DALTON DEFENSE ENTERS ON ITS SECOND DAY

Meeting of Lawrence and Beehan Again the Subject of Testimony and Questioning

Spring Valley Water Company how much it would be worth to him (the witness) if the assessment should be reduced, and replied that that was absolutely untrue. He also stated that Lawrence had told him that the property below Niles had cost $280,000 and that he would like to have an assessment of 60 per cent met.

The witness then said that Beehan had spoken to him about the campaign of 1910, expressing regret that such an attack had been made on him. He said that the campaign must have been an excessive one, but the witness said that the campaign was not as expensive as was the latter's experience in mining.

"Can I help you?" the witness said Beehan asked. "I have a friend who might be able to help you."

"IS IT SPRING VALLEY?"

"Is this Spring Valley?" I asked, continued the witness. "Beehan said 'No.' I said I did not want to have any assistance of that kind. He said no that it was simply a case of friendship and they were talking as friends."

"I said that if I could get $5000 that it would help me a great deal. I said again, 'Does this mean that a reduction must be made on the Spring Valley property?' and he said that it did not—that it was merely an act of friendship."

The witness then went on to state that he had been informed that Mr. Bourn was willing to help him, but that the latter was about to leave on a long visit.

"LOAN," SAYS DALTON.

Later on appointment was made for a meeting between the witness and Eastman in "Jack's," when the subject was again brought up. The witness asked if the money was to be loaned in view of the reduction of the company's assessment and Eastman declared that such was not to be the case.

Eastman asked the witness what security Dalton had to give for the money and the witness replied that he had no security. Eastman replied that he thought he could accommodate him with the money. Later an appointment was made between the witness and Eastman at Barnum's restaurant in this city.

Eastman met the witness at Barnum's restaurant and said he was willing to let him have the money and passed the $5000 over to the witness and took a receipt for the same.

Dalton then went out and was overtaken by Helms. Hodgkins had searched him and took some papers out of his pockets. Then the district attorney appeared on the scene and put a number of questions as to where he had gotten the money, and to all those queries he had replied that it was none of their business.

The district attorney had said to him that if he did not tell where he got the money he would go to jail. Dalton declared that he was surrounded by his enemies, but that statement was ordered out. He was taken to the district attorney's office where more questions were propounded to him. He asked what offense he had committed, but nobody would tell what the offense was.

There was no complaint filed against him until Attorney Gehring had come to his rescue.

Dalton then denied that he had said to Beehan that his last campaign had cost him $30,000. He did not characterize his enemies as ——. He did not denounce the Alameda county delegation in the legislature and denied that he had said he controlled three members of the board of supervisors.

"Did you," asked Wyman, "take $5000 from Eastman with the understanding that the assessment of the Spring Valley Water Company was to be reduced?"

"I did not," was the answer.

"Did you," Mr. Eastman, Mr. Beehan, Mr. Bourn or any other person ask or accept any money with the understanding that the assessment of the Spring Valley Water Company was to be reduced?"

"I did not."

"Did you ask for or receive any bribe from the Spring Valley Water Company?"

"I did not."

Recess for ten minutes.

LACK OF INCIDENT.

There was a lack of incident of note in the trial of Attorney Dalton today. In the superior court this morning, on the charge of asking for and receiving a bribe from the Spring Valley Water Company, because of the objection made by the prosecution to the introduction of evidence relating to the valuation of the property of that company at various times, which the court did not wish the jury to hear.

The men who are trying the case were accordingly given a recess a couple of times, and at the time of the noon adjournment were in the regular jury room awaiting the close of one of the legal disputations.

The court announced at the time that he would be pleased to listen to further argument. In the afternoon, in an event that counsel desired to still further discuss the matter, and Attorney Fairall, for the defendant, stated that he would like to be heard still further on the subject.

ALLEGED UNDERVALUATION.

The question under consideration was the admissibility of the showing from the records of the county board of equalization to the effect that Attorney Shaw of the Spring Valley Water Company had sworn that, at a certain time, the value of the riparian rights of that company was $500,000, whereas, at the time, Secretary Beehan had shown that the valuation was $280,000 and that, still later, the valuation was placed at only $266,000.

Fairall sought to show that all these statements had been sworn to and that there had been a constant decrease in the valuation of the rights in question by the company for the purpose, if possible, of securing a reduction of the assessment. He said that there were misstatements and that the assessor had not been influenced by them in making his assessments.

The introduction of the document was objected to by Hynes for the prosecution and the court held that he could not feel otherwise than that the objection was well taken because he was not able to see the materiality of anything that Attorney Shaw or any person might have to say in the premises. At the same time, he declared, he did not feel that the defense was not entitled to show conspiracy on the part of the Spring Valley Water Company, but he did not believe the document under consideration could be considered as along that line of testimony. There is a prospect that the defendant himself, Assessor Henry P. Dalton, may take the stand before the close of this afternoon's session.

SUSTAINS OBJECTION.

When the case was called this morning the court sustained the objection of the prosecution to the question, by Fairall, propounded yesterday afternoon, tending to show that there was an act of discovery of a reduction of the assessment on the riparian rights of the Spring Valley Water Company, in the event that the same should be made by the assessor.

Fairall took an exception. He then asked the witness if he had a statement of the values of the property of the Spring Valley Water Company as supplied by a representative of that company. Robinson said he had such a statement, and upon request handed it to the attorney for the defendant. Fairall started to question the witness regarding the contents of the paper. He said it showed the valuation of the several parcels of property claimed by the Spring Valley Water Company.

"This company," he continued, "has been giving various valuations of its property. At one time it places one value on it and at another time another valuation. It seems to be the custom of this company to place its own valuation on its property whenever it pleases."

This brought Hynes to his feet with the statement that what Fairall had stated was unprofessional and ungentlemanly. "You," he continued, "want to take the stand, I'll take pleasure in cross-examining him."

Hynes then objected to the introduction of the document on the ground that it was signed by a person who was not a witness in the case and that it had no bearing on the matter. The court sustained the objection and excluded the document. Hynes then with considerable warmth said that the document bore date of June 25, 1911, and that it had been in the hands of the defense since the 24th of that month. He also showed that the trial began June 20 and that the taking of testimony had commenced on June 30, and yet the statement in question had not been referred to at all until the present time.

Hynes then took up the consistency of the testimony of the witness yesterday and that given by Robinson before the Grand Jury.

SHAW'S VALUATION.

Wilson produced a statement of the proceedings of the County Board of Equalization, which Attorney Fairall said had been made by Shaw, the attorney for that company, placing the valuation of the properties of the concern at $530,000. Fairall then stated that the valuation of the rights, according to Beehan, was $286,000, and that a third valuation was as low as $266,000. He declared that the company in question had been making false statements from the very beginning. Those statements had been sworn to and had come in under the trial of the company, showing a steady reduction of values. He felt that the defense was entitled to make a showing of that kind.

Before this statement was made the jury was given a recess, which continued up to the time of the noon adjournment.

Hynes objected to the introduction of the instrument and the court stated that it did not seem to him that any valuation that Attorney Shaw might attach to the property had anything to do with the case.

Upon recess.

ANDERSON AGAIN CLASHES OVER PROPOSED ORDINANCE

Declares That Spirit of Charter Is Being Violated by Giving Power of Appointment to Council

Councilman Harry S. Anderson again clashed with his fellow members of the City Council this morning over the interpretation of the charter and the spirit of the new city charter, and as at the first session of the present council, was voted down by his four conferees. The cause of battle was the matter of appointments in the various departments, Councilman Anderson claiming the right to nominate the subordinate in his own department and declaring that the same right should be exercised by each of the other commissioners. The other councilmen denied Anderson's protest, placing the right to name subordinates in each department in the hands of the council.

The matter came up when the ordinance, passed to print at the first session of the council, prescribing the method of making appointments, came up for final passage. This ordinance takes the appointment of subordinates in all departments out of the hands of the individual commissioners and places the appointment in the hands of the council.

WANTS AMENDMENT.

Councilman Anderson introduced an amendment to the ordinance this morning vesting in the individual commissioners the right to nominate subordinates in their departments, the nominations to be satisfied by a vote of three members of the council. Although none of his conferees was in favor of this, it was seconded by Commissioner Turner as a matter of courtesy to bring it before the council. Councilman Anderson said, in explanation of his amendment:

"By the provisions of the charter the chief officials are appointed by the commissioner under whose jurisdiction they work. It is, I think, a wise provision of the charter, and reasoning from it, any other sections of the charter, I think that it is in line with the letter and spirit of the new charter that the minor employees should be named in the same manner, subject to confirmation by the council."

BRANDS IT ARBITRARY.

"Under this ordinance to which you wish to give final passage the council can, without consulting me, appoint the clerk in my office. Mr. Baucus or Mr. Forrest or Mr. Turner could nominate the clerk and the council could appoint him without my sanction. And yet, under the terms of the charter, I am expected to be responsible for the conduct of my department, and the efficiency of the subordinates in my office. "I tell you gentlemen that I will not stand for it. It is an attack upon the principles of the new charter. The fifteen charter framers considered this matter a long time and gave it the best of their judgment. I for one am willing to abide by that judgment. "They make each commissioner the business head of a department. They give him certain powers and hold him responsible for the conduct of the work in that department. And yet, by this ordinance you are taking from him the right to have any say as to who shall be employed in that office. You make the subordinates responsible for their pay and their position to some other person than their superior officer. There can be no efficiency under such a system."

ASKS FOR JUSTICE.

"I am merely asking for simple justice. I ask that you pass this amendment, merely placing in the hands of each commissioner the nomination of the subordinates in his department." Mayor Mott said: "I have agreed with Commissioner Anderson that he should have the naming of the clerk in the department of public works. I think that that is no more than justice."

"In the matter of the general employees, however, a different principle is involved. Each commissioner has an interest in all the departments, as a member of the general city council, has an interest in their working well. The charter gives the council the right to appoint the general employees in all departments, and I think that the commissioners should take enough interest in each other's departments to concern themselves with the efficiency and general fitness of all the general employees of the city."

ALL ARE INTERESTED.

"The city council has general direction of the affairs of the city, while the commissioner has particular charge of his individual department. In each department, however, the subordinates will be expected to respect not only the head of that department, but also the members of the council. All the councilmen are equally interested and all should have equal authority in making the appointments."

"If I am to be responsible for the men under me," answered Councilman Anderson,

Principal D. Keith Gives Testimony

Principal Douglas Keith was placed on the stand this afternoon in the investigation of the California Institution for the Deaf and the Blind, and testified regarding his appointment. He said that he had been advised to remain here by Director Reed. He said that he had taught at St. Odinus school at Oxford and that he had taught in England and in the blind department here. He also stated that he gave to the school the benefit of his research in the east at the time of his appointment.

PROMETHEUS SIGHTS RAFT, SAYS WIRELESS

E. Stone of this city, possessor of a wireless instrument, received the following message at 7:30 last night: "Part large log raft floating 11 1/2 miles south from Port Pinos. Raft chained together with heavy chains and still intact. Dangerous to navigation. Signed, Capt. Newell, U. S. S. Prometheus."

VALEJO, July 12.—The wedding of Miss Blanche Mobley, daughter of the Rev. D. A. Mobley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of this city, and Mr. E. Cross, professor of economics at Stanford University, will be celebrated here on July 14. Miss Mobley is a well-known member of Vallejo's younger social set.

"I want to have something to say about their selection." Anderson called for a vote on his amendment, placing the nomination in the hands of the commissioners as individuals, subject to confirmation by the council. The vote stood as follows: Ayes—Anderson. Noes—Baucus, Forrest, Turner and Mayor Mott.

Clergyman's Son Cured of Tuberculosis

To neglect a cold, bronchitis, lung trouble or consumption is "foolishness," says Eckman's Alternative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. 'DICK TO DICK' CAUSES WORRY

Secretary Fisher Says Controller Bay Matter Will Be Probed to Bottom.

to see how the public interest had been jeopardized. "I made up my mind," he added, "that if anything was wrong we wanted to know it. I checked up the case particularly to see if I could find anything irregular. I confess that I was not so much concerned whether the method of opening the lands was one way or another. The real thing I am looking for is to get constructive results."

RIGHTS UNDETERMINED.

"I found in my investigation that Richard S. Ryan, after the release of the shore line lands, had made three entries, none of which had been completed. He made an entry as a terminal for a railroad. That has not been determined and his rights will be decided according to law and subject to my review."

"I found considerable other footage available for railroad entry. The important thing is to ascertain what shore line rights lead to deep water. If there is only room for one railroad the question to be determined is whether it shall be Ryan's railroad or some other railroad."

Chairman Graham made a statement saying that Miss Abbott, who claims to have seen the alleged "Dick to Dick" letter, was not related in any way to Willis J. Abbott, a newspaper writer, formerly connected with the Democratic national committee.

H. G. Hargrave, nautical expert of the Geodetic Survey, testified that Controller Bay had but one outlet to deep water. The committee adjourned until next Friday.

Appellate Judge to Hear "Graft" Case

Supreme Court Orders Tirey L. Ford's Application Heard by Judge Chipman.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The State Supreme Court announced today that the writ of mandate applied for by Tirey L. Ford to compel the Superior Court to dismiss the indictment for forgery pending against him in connection with the graft prosecutions, was a matter for the District Court of Appeal to deal with, and therefore transferred the application to that court. At the same time, the court stated that Judge Hall of the Appellate Court was disqualified from hearing the application because of relationship to one of the attorneys, and appointed Judge Chipman of the third district to serve in his stead.

Waits 20 Years in Vain for Truant Wife's Return

Andre Verdier Then Obtains Divorce From Woman Who Returned to Denmark.

Andre Verdier was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in the Superior Court late yesterday afternoon on the ground of willful desertion. Twenty years ago, his wife, Wilhelmina, decided that she did not like the United States and returned to her old home in Denmark. The husband waited year after year for her to come back to him and finally gave up altogether. He told the court he thought twenty years was long enough for any man to wait for a truant spouse to return home.

Atwood to Attempt Flight to Chicago

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Harry Atwood, the Boston aviator, declared today that his next attempt at a long aerial journey will be from New York to Chicago. Atwood called at the White House and was introduced to President Taft.

This Man Evidently Was Not Born to Be Hanged

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Four more weeks' respite was extended to Willie Luis today by Governor Johnson when he issued a reprieve which will prevent the Chinese from going to the gallows in San Quentin prison Friday for the murder of his father's American wife in San Luis Obispo. The governor issued the reprieve so as to be able to investigate the petitions for leniency and commuting the death sentence to life imprisonment. There is a peculiar feature in connection with the death sentence which Warden John Hoyle of San Quentin has drawn to the attention of Governor Johnson. It will be practically impossible to hang Willie Luis because his neck and head are so closely joined. His neck is larger than his head and starts at his ears. A rope placed around his neck would slip over his head without touching his ears.

Castle in Heart of Lisbon Is Mysteriously Assailed

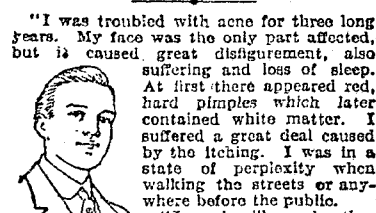

LISBON, July 11, via Badajoz, Spain.—A mysterious and daring, though unsuccessful, attempt was made to penetrate and capture St. George Castle, now a strongly fortified fortress on the top of a hill in the center of the city, tonight. The sentries at the castle were surprised by a large body of men, who fired volleys. The whole garrison quickly turned out and charged with fixed bayonets. The invaders disappeared in the darkness. The attack has caused a sensation and the garrison of the city has been reinforced. There have been rumors recently of an uprising of monarchists in the vicinity of Lisbon, the republicans being especially alarmed by the republican government. A strict censorship is maintained at Lisbon and the foregoing dispatch was taken across the border and telegraphed from Badajoz, Spain.

PIMPLES ON FACE CAUSED GREAT DISFIGUREMENT

For Three Long Years, Suffered Great Deal. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Brought Marvelous Results. In Few Weeks Cured Completely.

"I was troubled with acne for three long years. My face was the only part affected, but it caused great disfigurement, also suffering and loss of sleep. At first there appeared red, hard pimples which later contained white matter. I suffered a great deal caused by the itching. I was in a state of perpetuity when walking the streets or anywhere before the public. "I used pills and other remedies but they failed completely. I thought of giving up when nothing would help, but something told me to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a Cuticura Booklet which I read carefully. Then I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and by following the directions I was relieved in a few days. I used Cuticura Soap for washing my face, and applied the Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. This treatment brought marvelous results so I continued with it for a few weeks and was cured completely. I can truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are not only a cure for the skin, but a cure for the blood. (Signed) G. Baume, 1015 W. 20th Place, Chicago, Ill., May 28, 1911. For more than a generation Cuticura Remedies have afforded the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp. A cake of Cuticura Soap (20c.) and a box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient. 'BATTLE' IN BAY PLAN OF FORBES

The Adjutant - General Would Make Night 'Attack' On San Francisco.

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Adjutant General Forbes will go to San Francisco before Saturday to consult with the officers of the United States army at the bay and with officers of the United States navy on the proposition of having a night attack upon San Francisco by a fleet of war vessels and have the harbor entrance defended by the shore batteries manned by coast artillermen. General Forbes announced that he will not take up the matter directly with the War Department and the Navy Department at Washington, but will present his plans to the officers of the army and navy to be taken up by them through the proper channels with the departments at Washington for approval. "My plan," said General Forbes, "is to give the men of the National Guard—the those on the navy militia division and the coast artillery division—some training in maneuvers which are as nearly like the real article as possible. "The National Guard have been enlisted three years and during that time they have learned to navigate a big cruiser so that now they can take the ship anywhere in the Pacific with absolute safety. They can take care of themselves so far as navigation is concerned, now I want to teach them how to handle their cruiser in battle. I want the men of the National Guard to know how to fight."

HE TRIED TO BE NICE, DID RICHARD FERRIS

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—When Dick Ferris, promoter, actor and resigned provisional president of the very provisional republic of Lower California, comes up for trial in the United States court he will learn that even he can't be nice to the Government.

Ferris has been indicted by the Government's Grand Jury for conspiring to violate the neutrality laws.

Now, to show that he didn't feel bad about the Government's treatment, Dick sent Assistant United States Attorney Frank Stewart a pass to the Majestic for "The Man From Mexico." Now, it happens that Stewart is the man who will prosecute the kind-hearted Richard, and the Grand Jury had the awful nerve to consider that the box party Dick wished Stewart to enjoy might have been given to influence the prosecutor in his favor. The passer, with "Dick" name written across, will be one of the exhibits at the trial of the well-known promoter. Ferris secured a continuance and went to San Diego in disgust. At San Diego he will again appear as the Man From Mexico.

RECALL OF JUDICIARY FROWNED ON BY TAFT

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Fresh from a conference with President Taft, Chairman Smith of the Senate Territories Committee yesterday gave notice of an amendment to eliminate the recall provision in the Arizona Constitution, and said that if the resolution is adopted as it passed the House, it would be vetoed.

In presenting the report of the Senate Committee on the House bill, Chairman William Alden Smith gave notice in the Senate of an amendment to require the people of Arizona to so modify their Constitution that the recall provision shall not apply to the judiciary. The amendment would require that the question be submitted to the voters, and admission would be dependent upon its adoption.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN FIGHT WITH SHARK

SANTA ROSA, July 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis of Nineteenth street, San Francisco, who have been rustling at Bodega Bay, were nearly drowned while trolling for halibut in a small boat. They hooked a good sized shark, and in his efforts to strike the sea monster with an ear of Frank drove the ear through the bottom of the boat. The water rushed in and the man and his wife were thrown into the bay. Frank is a strong swimmer, and managed to keep his head above water until Frank and Frank Nixon reached them in a boat and took the woman aboard. Perry Dabolt and Daniel Rhea picked up the shark. The shark escaped.

"NIGHT IN JAPAN" ATTRACTS MANY TO IDORA PARK

With a myriad of vari-colored Japanese lanterns making the immense amphitheater a veritable summer garden, the new scenic extravaganza at Idora Park, called "A Night in Japan," is drawing thousands to the big pleasure park these evenings. Of the new system of free open-air ballets instituted at Idora a few weeks ago, the present offering is by far the most spectacular. "A Night in Japan" is a small-sized comic opera, the leading role being played by Carlton Chase, a musical comedy artist of exceptional ability. His many catchy songs are excellently rendered, and he is heard in a couple of songs, costumes and scenery of great power and well adapted for open air work. Pretty Annie Baumann, Rubie Leslie, and Vilma Stetka make bewitching Japanese girls, and are heard in a couple of clever song numbers. The thirty ballet girls perform an intricate Japanese dance and drill, which, aided by brilliant electrical and scenic effects and gorgeous costumes, is a spectacle well worth seeing. A complete change will take place on Saturday night. The new offering will be "Finafore Junior," a miniature production of the celebrated comic opera, "The Mikado." The scenery will be used. Producer Stammers is arranging some novel ballets for the offering next week. John Weber and his band continue to entertain the lovers of good music with afternoon and evening concerts of exceptional brilliance.

HOBOS SAVED HUNDRED PASSENGERS FROM DEATH

SALEM, Ore., July 12.—A hundred passengers passing through the city on board the southbound Overland at 3 o'clock yesterday morning can thank their lucky stars they are alive and uninjured, as a disastrous wreck would have surely occurred had not Frank Keen, a hobo, discovered a section of rail two feet long broken out of a rail in the Southern Pacific track a mile south of Salem, shortly before the arrival of the passenger train. After being kicked from a box car north of Jefferson, according to Keen's story today, he walked toward Salem, and when within a mile of the city he stumbled over an object lying in the center of the track. Upon investigation he found that a large section of the rail had been broken out. He made his way to Salem and informed the section gang and the broken rail was replaced before the Overland arrived. How the hobo saved the lives of the hundred passengers is a mystery, but it is supposed that a flaw in the steel and the warm weather caused the break.

"WE'LL LICK G. O. P." AVERS CHAMP CLARK

ATLANTIC CITY, July 12.—Just before his departure from this city to attend to his duties as Speaker of the House, Champ Clark, who addressed the Elks' convention here yesterday, declared with much emphasis: "We'll lick the Republicans in the next presidential election." With reference to congressional affairs, the speaker said: "Congress will vote on those tariff bills. If we have to stay in session until Christmas, and I think they will be, I think it is an unpardonable waste of time. I don't know whether reciprocity is passed, first or last, and I guess President Taft will sign the wool bill."

POET RILEY GIVES SITE FOR INDIANAPOLIS LIBRARY

INDIANAPOLIS, July 12.—The Indianapolis board of school commissioners received yesterday from James W. Riley, the hoosier poet, who has been seriously ill for several months, a gift of property in the most fashionable part of the city as a site for a library and administration building. The value of the property is estimated at $75,000, and if the present plans carry, one of the best libraries in the middle west will be located on the property. Riley believes that his death is not far away. WILL NOT CONSULT TONGS STOCKTON, July 12.—The Chinese of San Joaquin county have formed the Oriental Independence Society, the purpose of which is to settle all difficulties arising among themselves without consulting the San Francisco tong or local laws. Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying from James W. Riley. It is an antiseptic and caustic, and is used to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by Osgood Bros' Drug Stores.

SEARCHY ACQUITTED OF THE CHARGE

Jury Quickly Clears the Name of Former Martinez Tax Collector.

MARTINEZ, July 12.—George C. Searcy, the former tax collector of Contra Costa county, was acquitted of the charge of peculating public moneys while in office, by unanimous verdict of the jury, late yesterday. Judge George Cabliss, presiding in the Superior Court of the county, instructed the jury at 12:45 o'clock that the jury return a verdict in five minutes with the announcement that the first ballot stood 10 to 2 for acquittal. The session of lunch followed, and shortly after the return of the jury a unanimous verdict of acquittal was returned. Following the rendering of the verdict Mrs. Searcy personally thanked each of the jurors impelled to pass judgment on the innocence or guilt of her husband, accused of stealing $142,654 while holding the county office. The county is, as a result, out of this amount of money without the shadow of reimbursement. The proceedings in the trial, which has been the largest one of its nature in the judicial history of Contra Costa county, was the examination of character witnesses, who testified that the accused was of unimpeachable character, and had never, as a private citizen, been in any way connected with the county or state. The examination of character witnesses, who testified that the accused was of unimpeachable character, and had never, as a private citizen, been in any way connected with the county or state. Develop the South Harbor.

There should be no relaxation of effort till ships drawing twenty-five feet can reach any wharf in the Brooklyn Basin. There should be a thirty-foot channel not only to the basin, but all round it, for the inner harbor grows more important to Oakland year by year. It is even more important to Alameda, for it is the only avenue that city has to the deep sea, the only door it can open to the traffic of the ocean. Hence Alameda is jointly interested with Oakland in having the channel and the inner harbor deepened to accommodate ships of the largest draught entering San Francisco bay.

The improvements now being made on the western water front in no wise lessen the value and importance of the inner harbor. It will be some years before deep water ships can lie at the municipal wharves projected on the western water front, and in the meantime the south harbor gives our merchants and manufacturers the only open route to the sea. The traffic by this route is growing rapidly and will continue to grow. Its improvement is not merely a matter of immediate necessity, but is a matter of vast future importance. An enormous shipping trade will always center in the inner harbor, and it should be provided with facilities for ingress and egress as promptly as possible.

On the Oakland side the water front is owned by the city, which has already taken steps to improve the sections not under lease. Hence it is a matter of concern to every citizen that this property should be utilized to the largest possible extent to foster trade. By making the city's wharves accessible to ships of the largest class the commerce of this city and of Alameda will be built up and the municipality's water front holdings made remunerative. Unless a channel-way is provided deep water ships cannot reach the wharves in the Brooklyn Basin. And one of the most valuable assets of the city cannot be utilized as it should be.

With his usual foresight and vigor, Congressman Knowland took occasion, while here on his late visit, to call public attention to the necessity of urging upon Congress the need of further appropriations to prosecute the scheme of development for the south harbor authorized by Congress, and already partially carried out. In the past Mr. Knowland has labored very successfully for the improvement of the harbor, and in calling the leading citizens of Oakland together at this time to consider what further steps should be taken to impress Congress and the War Department with the urgency of the need for prosecuting the work of development more rapidly he exhibits the same zeal, vigilance and capacity that he has displayed from the first. The citizens of Oakland should back him up to the fullest extent in this matter. The Brooklyn Basin should be opened to ships of large draught at the earliest moment possible. The commerce of Oakland demands it, and the overcrowded condition of the San Francisco wharves requires it. This city is providing port facilities on the south harbor and only asks the national government to provide access to them.

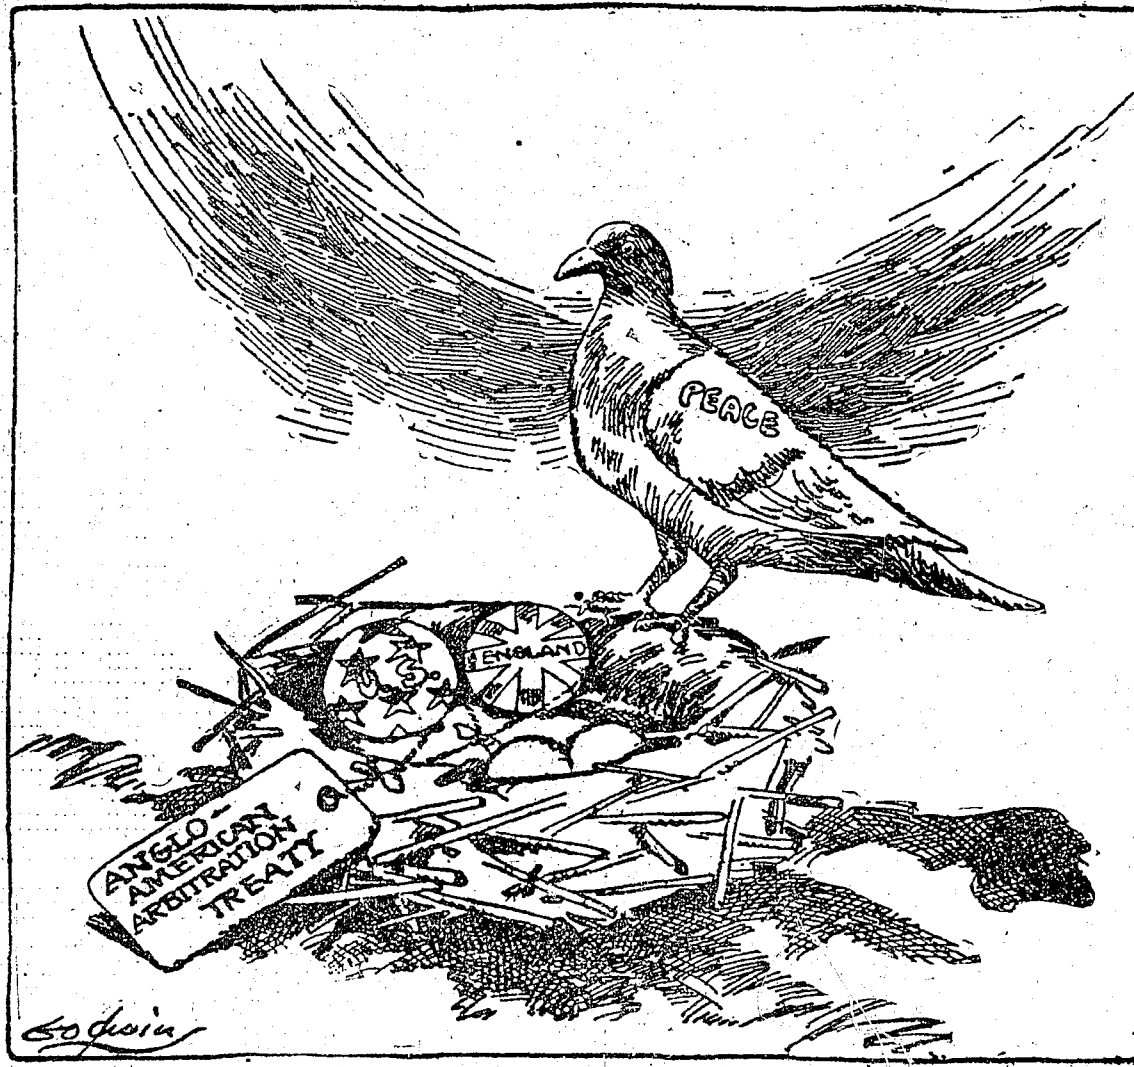

And it should be understood that the improvement of the south harbor will not interfere in any way with the system of docks and wharves now in course of construction on the western water front. The city is making those improvements at its own expense; it is also building docks and wharves on the south harbor front, and what Congressman Knowland proposes is that the government should be urged to complete the scheme of development projected for the south harbor at the earliest practicable moment. The western water front docks will profit by the shipping that comes into the south harbor. The city owns the water front on both sides and whatever tends to build up the sea traffic of the city will redound to the general good of the community and assist in making profitable the port facilities the municipality is now engaged in constructing. The more ships that come into the south harbor the more will berth on the western water front.

But aside from that there is great need in the immediate present for deeper water in the south harbor. The business interests of this city feel the need, which is imperative in Alameda, and the commercial bodies of both cities should lend Mr. Knowland every assistance in his efforts to have government action expedited.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa is a true insurgent, or progressive, as they prefer to be called. Not long ago he declared himself in favor of reciprocity with Canada and announced his intention of voting for the agreement now before Congress. All of a sudden he has shifted to the other side and has lined up with Cummins, La Follette and Bristow in opposition. He says he still believes in reciprocity and is confident it will inflict no injury on American agriculture, but as the farmers of Iowa are opposed to it he will vote against it. There's a statesman for you. Instead of combatting and correcting error he surrenders to it. His judgment as to what is for the best interests of the country is given up in obedience to the demand of ignorance and prejudice. Instead of standing by his convictions like a man of patriotism and courage, he allows others to do his thinking for him. He is going to vote against what he believes to be right to please the farmers of his state. Could political cowardice go further? However, Senator Kenyon is an example of the school that acclaims the doctrine that a representative in Congress should at all times do what his constituents want him to do, whether it be right or wrong.

The Fresno Republican comments on the great number of American newspapers printed in foreign languages, but strange to say omits to mention the most remarkable of all. That is, unless the journal we have in mind has suspended publication. For many years there was published at Serbin, Texas, a weekly paper printed in the Wendish tongue. A colony of Wendts, the ancient Slavic inhabitants of Eastern Germany, established themselves in Texas at an early day, retaining their Old World speech and customs. To what extent the members of this colony have retained their racial identity up to this time we cannot say, but twenty years ago Serbin was as much a Wendish village as any similar hamlet in Mecklenburg or East Prussia. They employed their ancient dialect in all their domestic intercourse and lived apart from their American and German neighbors. Their little newspaper gave singular proof of the persistency of race and language under conditions destructive to both.

Stand by Battery B.

It is gratifying that the Chamber of Commerce should lend its assistance to the scheme to provide Battery B, Oakland's new military organization, with temporary quarters until the State can be induced to erect an armory in this city. Without a creditable organization Oakland cannot ask the Legislature to appropriate money for an armory. We need a military organization and an armory to complete our civic equipment, and our citizens must take the initiative and show their good faith before they can reasonably expect State aid.

In times past Oakland had some excellent military organizations, including a cavalry company and an infantry battalion. In the general disintegration of the National Guard some years ago these organizations disappeared. Since their disbandment Oakland has had no military organization till Battery B was organized. This corps again gives this city a place in the National Guard and a right to demand an armory from the State government.

But the State will do nothing for an ephemeral organization. The new artillery company will have to prove that its organization is permanent and that it has the support of our civic bodies before it can claim favorable consideration at the hands of the Legislature. Hence the Chamber of Commerce has acted wisely in giving aid to the effort to provide Battery B with quarters for the next three years. In that time the company will have become effectively organized and permanently established and be an integral part of the National Guard. When that stage is reached there ought to be little difficulty in getting an appropriation for an armory. If we have no military organization we have no need for an armory; having a military organization we do need an armory. In supplying the one we create a necessity for the other. Hence the Chamber of Commerce has done the right thing in giving help to the new organization. Let us make Battery B a crack military company, an organization worthy of the town and the citizen soldiery of the State. In that way we will contribute to the spirit of organization and do something that will add to the fair fame of the city.

Make Battery B the pride of Oakland and the city will get an armory and a place in the National Guard.

It seems that Senator La Follette was the first to make the statement that the President had signed a secret order restoring certain lands at Controller Bay, Alaska, to the entry list, so that they might be grabbed by the Guggenheims. The statement has an element of truth, but every argument reflecting on the President is a lie. Some lands hitherto reserved at Controller Bay have been restored to entry, but not by secret order. The restoration was made in the regular way on recommendation of the Agricultural Department. The Guggenheims have not grabbed any of the lands and have no prospective interest in them. Apparently the tale was sent abroad in pursuance of La Follette's effort to make himself President by calumniating Taft.

The railroad section hands who worked so heroically in helping the Santa Rosa's passengers to land through the surf are Japanese. This may account for so little attention being paid to their gallantry. Be that as it may, these men deserve great praise for the courage they displayed. They showed themselves to be brave men, willing to risk their own lives to save the lives of others. They did this voluntarily and for strangers. They are only poor laborers, but they showed themselves to be true men. All honor to them.

Score one for the hot wave. The heat has grown so intense in Washington that the Senators have at last decided to finish business and go home. But it took nearly half a century to make them move.

"Senator Bourne is a finished politician," says the Honolulu Star. Let us hope so. Bourne is no better than Lorimer. Despite his professions he bought his way into the Senate, and in that body has been a persistent and erratic demagogue.

A woman has sued for divorce because, as she charges in her complaint, her husband believes in race suicide. Usually it is the other way. Women object to having children as a rule.

AUTO-PROOF ROAD

There is needed a new Macadam. The English parish officer who first made roads of broken stone held together by screening material conferred a great benefit upon mankind. "Macadamized" roads by thousands of miles in every country are his memorial. But they do not answer now. When the automobile with its weight and its snorting fury of haste sweeps over a macadam road the binding material is sucked out and drifts in white dust over the fields and the bare stone is ground out in a season.

Crude oil will lay the dust and keep the binder from blowing away, but it spoils the pleasure of the road with its noxious smell and stench. There are tar and asphaltum compounds that hold the broken stone, but they make a slippery surface. When a narrow State road is "crowned" to shed water and treated with these compounds a horse can scarcely keep his footing upon it in winter. The State is bonded for good roads to benefit the farmer; and the prudent farmer drives in the ditch.

The city of New York is trying on the White Plains road eighteen sections of experimental pavements covering nearly a mile. Most of the binders used contain tar or asphalt in varying combinations. No one expects that the Bronx Public Works Department is going to find a perfect road formula. It probably doesn't exist. But if any man will invent a road that horses can use, that autos will not swiftly ruin and that doesn't cost too much for rural neighborhoods, the world is waiting with rich rewards to hear from him.—New York World.

EDEN LOCATED

We fear that those who are pessimistically inclined will be looking up the time tables, and determining when a train leaves for Mount Washington, "a town in the southern part of the Berkshire hills."

That town has had a wedding; and it seems that a wedding in Mount Washington is such an extraordinary thing that the correspondents sent out the news to all parts of the country—the news being that the town has only thirteen voters, and that it has not had a wedding before in fifty years.

Logicians may hold that a town which has a wedding more frequently than once in fifty years might reasonably expect to have no more than thirteen voters. But the logicians are absolute knaves and we hold that their view of a situation is not always enlightening. At any rate, the pessimists will hold that a town which has only one wedding in half a century cannot have a great deal in the local papers about divorce suits, and that a town which has only thirteen voters cannot be bothered with a great deal about elections.

Is not this an unconscious description of an earthly paradise? Too much cannot be said against weddings, though there are those who hold that Heaven's greatest charm lies in the fact that there is no marrying or giving in marriage in the land from which travelers do not return.

But as for elections, this is a different matter. There are none, we believe, in the District of Columbia; but as the wonderful products of all the big elections congregate in that blighted section, it should offer no inducements. But who shall sing the praises, loudly enough, of a town where there are only thirteen voters and where the years pass without bringing any talk about central committees, and wards, and contests, and ballot stealing and friends and enemies of the people, and pointing with pride, and viewing with alarm, and "rounding up the boys," and campaign clangers, and torchlight processions, and all those other things which have power to blight our lives?—St. Louis Times.

THE INVINCIBLE CITY

(ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS.)

San Francisco had a little earthquake the other day. No one was injured by the shock. But two men chanced to die of heart failure at about that time, and the sensation hunters of the country shrieked abroad in wild headlines that a temblor had killed two people at San Francisco. And about tomorrow we shall see learned editorials expatiating on the approach of the day when the Golden Gate will be deserted and Telegraph Hill shall overlook a large solitude.

Which is bosh from first to last. The little temblor which last passed her way will not hurt San Francisco's growth one iota. In the first place you can't kill a city that has San Francisco's spirit. She is invincible. Five years ago she was wiped out by a twin affliction of earthquake and fire. She has not only in a large measure rebuilt on solid and more splendid lines than before, but real estate in the business section has since changed hands at prices higher than ruled before the disaster. It is a thing like that could not cow the city, be sure that it will not turn pale before a tremble that stops a few specks.

And, in the next place, earthquakes never killed any city. Japan is the home of earthquakes. She is likewise the home of the largest population that has ever been crowded on to a similar area of similarly productive soil. Lisbon was shaken down and rebuilt. Antioch had the experience several times. For twenty centuries earthquake and volcano have been playing havoc in southern Italy and Greece, and for twenty centuries those two regions have been peculiarly the home of city life. It takes man to destroy cities. When trade routes change, or more often when oppressive governments dry up the springs of a city's wealth, then that city disappears. But the hostility of nature does but stir man up to greater energy and more prolonged combativeness.

San Francisco is one of the most invincible cities on earth. She is as foredoomed as Constantinople to be one of the great gathering places of mankind. Constantinople is the only city which even a Turk could not ruin, and San Francisco has a charter of equal vitality written in earth and sea. The commerce which crosses the mountains from the central United States makes for the Golden Gate as naturally as a homing pigeon makes for the remembered dove cote. There is the great bay, one of the half dozen great natural harbors of the earth; a bay lying at the meeting point of two great and productive valleys—a bay which is the only good port for hundreds and hundreds of miles. The only way to stop the growth of such a city is to ruin the United States, and that might not be a sure prescription.

Moreover San Francisco has taught and learned this lesson: That houses can be built which can resist any earthquake shocks except such absolute convulsions as characterized Krakatoa. The heavy shock of five years ago did its deadly work mainly by breaking the water mains and leaving the city a prey to fire. Thousands of buildings were almost wholly unhurt by the earthquake, but went down before the flames. The city has provided against a repetition of that disaster. She is fortified against any shock that North America has witnessed since the white man began keeping the records—and she knows it.

TUBERCULOSIS AND LIVING

"The chief cause of increase in the cost of living," said one of the speakers at the recent meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, "is waste." The waste he blamed for the high cost of living was not the waste of the careless housekeeper, but the waste of preventable deaths and sickness and preventable conditions of low physical and mental efficiency. He argued that these wastes together operated to bring about an advance in commodity prices. They restrict the supply of the necessities of life by taking persons out of productive enterprises, thus making production more expensive.

This is a sensible argument. We should not charge up the high cost of living exclusively to the trusts and national extravagance. Unnecessary disease is too important a factor to be excluded. Of all the preventable diseases tuberculosis is the most costly because as a rule its victims are confined to the productive period of life.

Impressive estimates show in terms of money the expensiveness of that disease. The total annual tariff revenue of the United States is 20 per cent less than the annual loss of wages and cost of sickness and deaths due to it. More persons are taken out of productive industry by tuberculosis every year in the United States than there are wage earners in the industrial state of Massachusetts. The average family income in the United States is less than $300. So it would take the entire family income of 562,500 householders to pay the nation's yearly tuberculosis bill. One year's loss from all preventable diseases would pay the national debt.

Assuming these figures to be anywhere near correct, there is no question of greater moment from an economic point of view, than the prevention of unnecessary disease. From a humanitarian point of view none can compare with it.—Chicago Tribune.

If the average man owned a bank somebody could come along and trade an old spavined horse off to him for it.—New York Press.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

The Oakland Cricket Club played a game with the California Club at Golden Gate yesterday. That is, the former club tried to play, but after the first round they were not in it. The contest ended with a score of 273 to 27. The line-up of the Oakland team was William Reed, G. Wislman, J. J. McCullough, T. W. Walker, George Anthony, C. Walker, H. Whittle, W. Reeves, C. Halton, C. Praden and C. Debenham.

A regular meeting of the Oakland Typographical Union was held yesterday and the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: E. R. Wilson, president; John Hunt, vice-president; John P. Tyrrell, secretary; F. E. Adams, treasurer; James M. Shanley, sergeant-at-arms; W. B. Soule, chairman of executive committee.

Attorney James L. Crittenden is disposed to fight the proposed opening of Twentieth street. He has property interests there.

City Hall Janitor A. Wilds has applied to the Board of Public Works for a week's vacation from August 3 to 9. He adds to his request that he has not had a day off in ten years.

The first side seat cars were run on the Fruitvale road this morning. Trial trips will be made during the day preparatory to the opening tomorrow.

The Berkeley and Lorin Water and Light Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $250,000. The directors are W. D. Sheldon, W. T. Martin, J. A. Mallon, John Purcell and C. W. Elving.

There is considerable demand for the new novel "I Swear," by Frank H. Powers, because of the fact that the author is well known in Oakland society, and the further fact that the incident of the book on which all the action hinges really occurred in the family of two other persons who resides here for many years.

H. C. Capwell and Mrs. Capwell will leave for a fortnight's outing at Santa Cruz and other resorts tomorrow.

The Arlington Yacht Club held its fourth annual cruise last Sunday with the following present: Charles Kelus and family, B. Barnett, Miss Jessie Barnett, Max Green, A. Erb, Miss Jennie Erb, Gus Aurich, Miss Fannie Aurich, Louis Marks, Miss Pauline Marks, Miss Minnie Davis, Dick Alexander, Miss Helen Alexander, J. Bloom, Ed Brennan and many others.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES YOUNGBERG will be here this evening to a coterie of friends still in town. Tonight's dinner is one of a series of affairs which they are giving before leaving town. The Youngbergs are delightful hosts and their home in Linda Vista Terrace is the scene of much informal entertainment. Several other dinners will be given by them before their departure for the vicinity of Lake Tahoe in August, which they will tour by automobile.

AT AETNA SPRINGS.
Bay city folk at Aetna Springs include: Mr. and Mrs. David F. Selby, Mrs. J. H. Priel and son, Mrs. A. N. Lewis, W. S. Lewis, R. Maertins, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Quinn, Mrs. G. Dupre, Mrs. M. H. Robbins, Miss Esther Robbins, Miss Isabelle Robbins.

THORNTON WHITES RETURN.
The Thornton Whites have returned to town from a visit at the country home of the Frank Lampson Browns in Ben Lomond.

VISITING FROM LOS ANGELES.
Mrs. Robert Green of Los Angeles is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fielding of this city.

AQUA VISTA CLUB.
The Aqua Vista Club recently returned from a jolly camping trip. The club will meet alternately at the homes of Mrs. J. D. Rogers and Mrs. Gus Wedinger, where various trips will be planned, among them a launch ride.
Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wedinger, Misses Myrtle Copp, May Copp, Rose Rogers and Lily Rogers, Mr. Seifer, Walter Wedinger, Dock Taber, George Selby, William Bonkowsky, Frank Rogers, Eugene Barber and Alfred Silva.

RETURN FROM DEL MONTE.
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Boell have just returned from a delightful auto trip. They spent some time at Del Monte, Pacific Grove, Carmel-by-the-Sea and Santa Cruz.

AT BRIDGE TABLES.
Miss Eleanor Harris will entertain for Miss Claire Bowman on Friday afternoon. A large number of guests have been asked to play bridge.
Among those who will assist the young hostess in receiving are Mrs. Benjamin McCoy, Miss Gladys Cutler, Miss Lulu Rube, Miss Grace Kallier, Miss Miriam Pond and Miss Barbara Reid.

DISTINGUISHED GUEST.
Mrs. Wilbur Gracey, wife of the American consul at Nanking, China, is being welcomed here. She is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Yale. Mrs. Gracey was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Milton Bailey, who has been visiting with her in the Orient.
Mrs. Gracey will be remembered as Miss Edna Yale, one of the most beautiful girls of the smart set. Her courtship and marriage a few years ago to the young diplomat was a romantic affair, and in China, where her home has been made, she has become a familiar figure in official circles. Gracey is the son of one of the oldest diplomats in the service, his father having been connected with foreign posts for the last 30 years. Mrs. Gracey will be feted extensively during the season.

TO VISIT IN PHILIPPINES.
Miss Christine English will leave for the Philippine Islands, where she will be the guest of her brother, Lieutenant S. M. English, at Camp Stensborg.

MOORE-CLEVELAND WEDDINGS.
Miss Gladys Moore will become the bride of Gail Cleveland on the evening of Tuesday, July 18, at the Moore residence in Berkeley. Miss Moore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Moore and is a graduate of the University of California, as also is her fiancé.

Cleveland has recently been appointed professor of English in the Waseda Imperial College in Zappora, Japan. He has been an instructor at St. Matthew's Military Academy since taking his degree.

IN LOS ANGELES.
Mr. and Mrs. John Treanor recently took possession of a new residence in Los Angeles, where they have made their home for the last two years. Mrs. Treanor as Miss Bessie Coghill was a popular girl with the younger set, and her occasional visits to the bay cities have been the occasion for much entertaining. Recently Mrs. Treanor has had as her house guest her mother, Mrs. Thomas B. Coghill. Mrs. Coghill returned to Oakland a few days ago. Mrs. Treanor plans a visit to the north coast in the near future. Mrs. Harry Welch and children, Mrs. Fred L. Hall and her two daughters, together with Mrs. Etta Hobson of San Jose, made up a jolly home party at Santa Cruz, where a cozy bungalow has been leased for the season.

RETURN HOME.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Howard have returned to their Vernon Heights home after a several weeks' sojourn at their country place in Contra Costa county.

TO VISIT MRS. HENSHAW.
Mrs. Lucie May Hayes left a day or two ago for Santa Barbara, where she will spend a month as the guest of Mrs. William Henshaw, whose home there is a center of hospitality.

SEPTEMBER WEDDING.
The wedding of Perry Evans of Berkeley and Miss Florence Gibbons will take place in September, but the exact date for the ceremony has not been decided upon. The bride-elect is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Gibbons of San Francisco and one of the charming members of the smart set across the bay. Young Evans comes of one of the most prominent families in Berkeley, and is a graduate of the University of California and Hastings Law College. The Evans home in North Berkeley is one of the hospitable centers on this side of the bay, and has been the scene of many delightful social functions, presided over by Miss Nora Evans and her sister, Julia.

VISITING HERE.
Mr. and Mrs. M. Kuyale of Reno, Nevada, are visiting in Oakland for a few days. Kuyale is United States surveyor-general, with headquarters at Reno.

NEW YORK VISITORS ENTER-TAINED.

Mrs. W. Hammond, Jr., of Alameda, entertained recently at a delightful dinner in honor of her cousin, Miss Marie and Miss Veronica Rioridan, of New York, who came here with the teachers' convention.

Mrs. E. Beaudry and Guy Beaudry also entertained for them, as did the Misses Bagan, at a number of enjoyable affairs. The Eastern visitors left Monday, to the regret of their friends and relatives in the bay cities. They will stop off at Denver to join their mother and brothers, who are well-known in New York City, and the entire party will continue their journey East.

SAIL FOR HOME.
Mrs. George McNeer, Miss Elizabeth Sherman and Miss Elizabeth McNeer sail for home on the thirteenth of this month. They have been enjoying some delightful days in Japan.

TO DEPART LATER.
Mrs. Frederick Funston will join General Funston in the Philippine Islands the latter part of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller leave in the early fall for an extended trip throughout the Eastern States.

WEDDED THIS MONTH.
Miss Geneva Bell and Professor Charles Gilrest will solemnize their marriage on Tuesday evening, July 18, at a quiet and simply appointed home ceremony. The only attendant will be Miss Minnie Kohl. The Rev. C. H. Hobart will be the officiating clergyman.

Miss Bell is the daughter of Mrs. T. E. Bell of Berkeley. For a time she was a student at the University of California, of which institution her fiancé is a graduate. Gilrest is now professor of electrical engineering in the mechanics department of the State University.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

MOVING-PICTURE TRAGEDY IS REALISTIC

Actress Forced to Save Herself When Would-be Rescuer Drowns.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A moving picture machine set up to make a film of the thrilling rescue of a young woman from the waters of Lake in Fox Hills, Staten Island, yesterday recorded instead an actual drowning of the actor rescuer and the saving of herself by the young woman who was to have been rescued. The actor who was drowned was Albert Brighton, who formerly was in the "Strongheart" and "Squawman" companies.

Mary Murray, the actress, rowed out in the lake twenty-five feet from shore, at the point selected for the picture taking. There are many water lilies, and the young woman, all alone in the boat in a fluffy white dress, was to pick water lilies, and in reaching too far for one of the flowers was to upset the boat and be rescued.

The picture machine was started and Mary Murray picked several of the flowers. Then at a signal from the operator she leaned far over the gunwale and stretched her hand toward another flower. As she put her weight on the side of the boat it tipped and went over, throwing her into the water.

It was part of the play that the girl should scream for help and throw up her hands to attract the attention of Brighton, who was strolling along the shore. When the girl screamed Brighton threw off his straw hat and his coat and dove into the water. The young woman in the water continued her acting of the helpless drowning girl and the man at the moving picture machine continued sending the film past the lens.

The actor, who had jumped in to save the woman in distress, came to the surface and splashed toward her. Then he began to shout for help. As he shouted he disappeared and then reappeared and shouted again. Others of the company made no move, thinking that the picture was to impart an additional appearance of reality to the act. Instead he sank again. His body was recovered several hours later.

Maxine Stamps Feet

LONDON, July 12.—Maxine Elliott, while at a theatrical garden party, saw a copy of a New York newspaper, which had just arrived in London, containing extracts from Nat Goodwin's memoirs and describing her alleged efforts to break into English society. The actress read them through, every now and then uttering exclamations and stamping her feet.

As she finished she furiously turned on her interviewer and said: "I am not surprised at anything that man does. He has tried every money-making scheme from mines to malice."

Maxine's British successes continue. She has recently been entertained by the Duchess of Rutland, the Duchess of Sutherland, Sir Herbert and Lady Tree and Mrs. John Jacob Astor. In fact, she said this afternoon that she had decided to abandon the production of "The Garden of Allah" in order to go to India for the Durbar as the guest of Sir Hugh and Lady Clifford. Her place in "The Garden of Allah" will be taken by her sister, Gertrude Elliott.

Dies Mysteriously

RENO, July 12.—Driven to desperation by poverty, 19-year-old Gladys Sutherland died in the receiving hospital here under mysterious circumstances. The young woman came to Reno a few days ago as the witness for the defense in the Frammer murder case, transferred from another county to this city for trial. Monday night an excited negro, Fred Lee, rushed up to a policeman and told him a white girl was dying in his cabin. Doctors were summoned and the girl was taken to the receiving hospital, where she died in half an hour.

It developed yesterday that the young woman was the daughter of M. W. Musgrove, a former newspaperman and judge of the United States Circuit Court in Arizona. She came to Reno from Imlay, Nev. A few days ago she applied to an attorney here for advice. She said that she was destitute and wanted to know if she was not entitled to witness fees. She swore to an affidavit and this she took to the lawyers. The matter was not taken up and the woman was left without funds. Lee said that she asked him for permission to rest in his cabin for a few minutes and when he returned he found her dying.

Told to Love Another

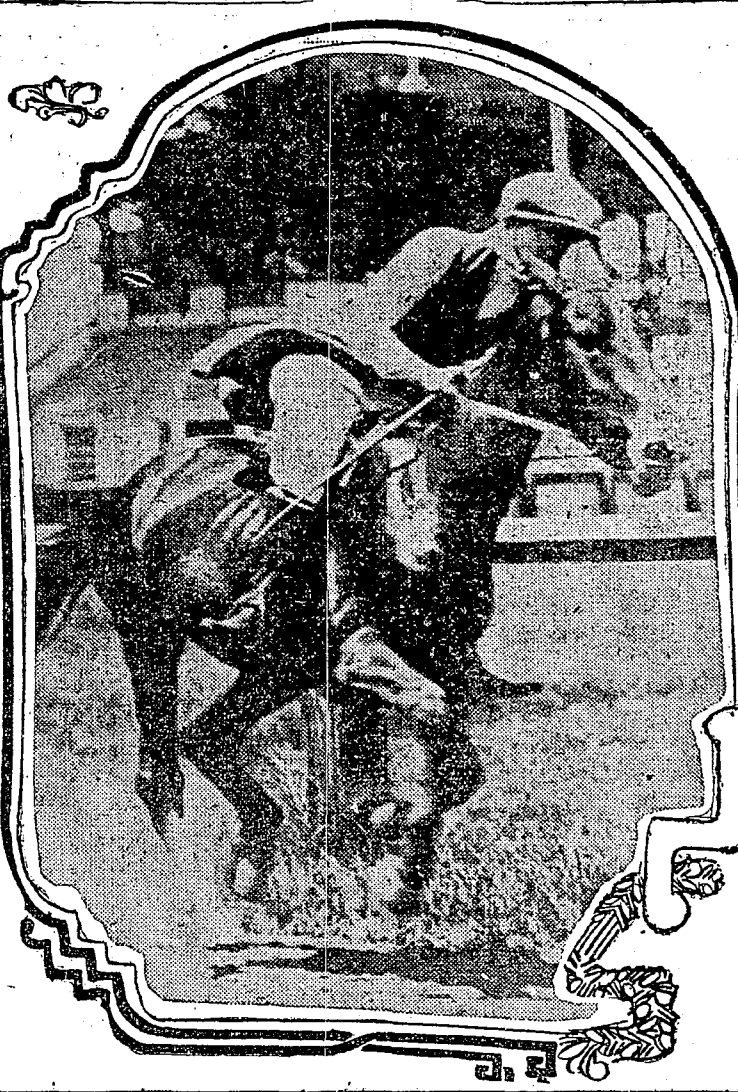

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Falling in his effort to save his wife from love with another man in order that she might desire to divorce him, James E. O'Donnell, a wealthy oil man, now residing in San Francisco, "deserted her," according to her testimony. On that ground she was granted a divorce by Judge Menore. The case is extraordinary because, according to the witness, after he ceased to love her and want her as his wife, he expressed a platonic friendship and was solicitous for her welfare. That she should have a divorce on the ground that she was not loved by her husband might not suffer for want of care he gave his brother, Thomas O'Donnell, a local oil man of independent means, $20,000 to be used for their benefit.

Close friends of Mrs. O'Donnell told the court that her husband had come to them and asked them to find a man for his wife. He explained that while he felt kindly toward her he did not desire to live with her and he thought she would be glad to get rid of him if she could fall in love with somebody else. She gets the custody of the child. Thomas O'Donnell was made trustee of the $20,000, with instructions to invest it so that it will bring $100 a month.

Spread Unionism

CHICAGO, July 12.—A novel method of spreading the gospel of unionism among Chicago's foreign population has been adopted by the women trade unionists. Lessons in English are being given foreign working girls, but the old

Society Beauties, Riding Astride, Are the Feature of the Meet

MISS EMILY RANDOLPH, who recently rode a race garbed in the regulation jockey costume.

NEW YORK, July 8.—In the society race for women riders astride and in riding breeches, which was a closing feature of the Brookline Country Club's meet at Clyde Park, Boston, on June 24, Miss Emily Randolph, one of the most beautiful of the Eastern society girls, came in second by a neck, with the betting at 3 to 1.

Miss Tina Hitchcock, who won the race handsly in 44 seconds at three furlongs, is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Hitchcock of Hempstead, L. I., the latter being the leader of the hunting set on Long Island.

Mrs. Emilie Lindsey of Philadelphia, who rode in skirts and on a side saddle, came third, at 10 to 1, by a length.

Mrs. Thomas J. Hitchcock, at 7 to 1, came fourth by four lengths, and Miss Eleanor Sears, at 5 to 1, was fifth. Eleanor Sears is the Boston girl who has been conspicuous at Newport for several seasons and who has attracted attention in New York, San Francisco and other cities by her feats of riding, walking, swimming and flying.

The race at Clyde Park was arranged informally during the racing meet of the Brookline Country Club. One condition of the race was that the riders were to draw lots for horses. Miss Tina Hitchcock drew the best horse and won easily.

50 Y. M. C. A. HIKERS TO LEARN ART OF SWIMMING

Fifty boys of the Young Men's Christian Association will enjoy a plunge in the surf at Alameda Thursday afternoon. They will leave this city at 1 o'clock in charge of six of the leaders of the association, who will instruct the lads in the art of swimming. It will be their first lesson.

All the boys in the company are members of the Hikers' club, which was recently organized for the purpose of awakening an interest in excursions afield. Charles Toose, who will act as chief guide in the swimming expedition, and B. R. Robinson will be one of his assistants.

SURVIVOR OF WRECK.

Harry Slutman, 14-year-old son of Mrs. F. E. Slutman of Twenty-fifth street, who was on the ill-fated Santa Rosa, reported at the Young Men's Christian Association last evening. In an interesting manner he told his playmates how he came ashore in a life raft.

Harry was one of the last passengers to be carried safely to the shore.

SIR ELDEN CORST, AGENT FOR BRITISH, IS DEAD

LONDON, July 12.—Sir Elden Corst, British agent and consul general in Egypt since 1907, died this morning. He succeeded Lord Cromer as British agent in Egypt.

primer has been discarded and a new one substituted by the Women's Trade Union League.

The time-honored cat, which has done service in connection with objects, has been discarded and the "union" substituted. In getting her first lesson in reading "the pupil no longer reads 'I see the cat.' Instead she reads, 'I am a union girl.'"

The lesson proceeds, "I start work at 8 o'clock in the morning. I quit at 5 o'clock in the afternoon." In another lesson the condition of the non-union girl is contrasted with that of the union girl. It reads, "I am not a union girl. I begin work at 7 o'clock in the morning and I work until 5 in the evening. I get $4 a week."

The new system of education was explained at the meeting of the Women's Trade Union League yesterday.

Dodges Posse

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 12.—B. Frank Smith, who escaped from the Fayette county jail on July 8, where he was held for inquiry into his sanity because he shot and killed his father and brother-in-law, paid a midnight visit to his wife, who lives near here, while the sheriff and seven deputies were hot on his trail.

The sheriff arrived at 3 a. m., but Smith had been gone fifteen minutes.

OAKLAND PUPILS AWAY ON VISIT

MISS JOSEPHINE KOESEL, who is planning week-end trips with friends.

During vacation many of the boys and girls are passing their time visiting in nearby summer resorts, where they are enjoying their leisure moments in swimming, rowing and tennis games.

Miss Josephine Koesel, who graduated from the Elmhurst grammar school last term, is the guest of friends in San Francisco.

Lloyd Cobblecluck, a student in the Oakland high school, is enjoying life on a farm in Napa.

Henry Potray Tr., who was one of the graduates of the class of 1911 of the Oakland high school, recently returned from Oakley, Contra Costa county.

Finds Son Dead

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 12.—The long search of Mrs. Minnie Grimes of Oklahoma City, Okla., for her son ended in her identification yesterday of a photograph of a young man crushed to death in a box car last April as that of her son.

Since October 20, 1910, Mrs. Grimes had had no news from the young man, whose name was Floyd McEwan, he being the child of a former marriage. At that time he sent her $20 from Bakersfield, Cal.

Falling to hear from him she went to Bakersfield. She picked up one clew after another and followed them in vain. Then on a mere chance she decided to come to St. Louis.

Would Hang for Her

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 12.—Writing to Earl Gray, governor-general of Canada, J. T. Meardon, aged 50, of Evansville, asks that he be permitted to take the place of Mrs. Angelina Napolitano,

Mme. Maeterlinck's Ten Commandments

Mme. Maeterlinck has just explained to a curious world how she became a successful wife "under the most difficult circumstances," says "M. A. P."

These are her ten commandments for wives:

I. A wife is the inseparable half of the only complete human unit, in which two small and imperfect individuals have become merged in a large and perfect One.

Each half of the wedded whole retains special functions; yours are to discern, to anticipate, to yield, to cheer, to soothe—and thus to strengthen.

Never trust to hirelings the essentials of your husband's physical well-being; understand and frequently practice the art of selecting and preparing his food.

Be sure each day his garments are whole and clean and suited to the season.

Constitute yourself an infallible barometer whereby to forecast and render harmless those electrical disturbances peculiar to the married state.

Be to your husband's dark moods the subtle, unsuspected antidote; to his joyous mood the companion spirit of joy.

Save your caresses until you perceive that his dinner has been without a flaw; kisses to a hungry man are like froth to a parched tongue.

Your tongue for assent; for argument use only your eyes.

When your husband has an attack of gout, deprecate the art of dancing.

If you would convince your husband that you are a better actress than Bernhardt, a better dancer than Pavlova, prove to him that you are a better cook than M. Escoffier.—Los Angeles Times.

GIRL DROWNED WHEN WINGS ARE CAST ASIDE

SAN RAFAEL, July 12.—Marie Janaler, 14 years old, who lived at 61 Majestic street, San Francisco, was drowned here yesterday while swimming with some other children at a camping ground north of the city. She had been swimming with water wings, but when she decided to swim without them she went to the bottom. Garmon Nelerio, who was swimming with her, tried to rescue her, but failed. The body was found an hour after the accident.

Man at times works eight hours a day at business under protest; women at home without complaint about every hour she is out of bed.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

AT FIVE, THIS GIRL IS MERMAID IN REAL LIFE

SANTA BARBARA, July 12.—The swimming feats of little Frances Deering, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Deering, prominent San Francisco people who are spending the summer at the Potter, have been the cause of much comment during the past week. The child is one of the most remarkable swimmers for her age that has ever been seen in the Santa Barbara surf.

With a wealth of curly golden locks and a well-developed frame she makes a striking appearance in the breakers and is the chief attraction at the beach. She has no fear of drowning and has gone beyond the diving raft, a feat which only experienced older swimmers will undertake.

The child is also an expert diver. The life guard at the beach says little Miss Deering undoubtedly will be one of the fastest and strongest swimmers on the coast in a few years.

FIFTEENTH INFANTRY LEAVES SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 12.—The Fifteenth United States Infantry left the maneuvers camp at Fort Sam Houston this evening en route to Fort Douglas, Utah. The Eighteenth Infantry will leave camp Thursday. One battalion will go to Whipple barracks, Arizona.

Girl Badly Burned

WILLOW, July 12.—Some laborer on the Hess ranch, six miles southeast of here, carelessly dropped a bunch of matches in the dry grass and when the wheel of the reaper ran over it flames broke out and destroyed nearly fifty acres of standing grain, the reaper and seriously burned Miss Nettie Hess.

Miss Hess tried to save the reaper from being destroyed. She used wet sacks in fighting the blaze and succeeded well until her hair came down. The weather was extremely warm and she was completely exhausted when help arrived. Her father and George Hansen were the chief losers by the fire, the total loss from which amounted to $2500.

Repent of Divorce

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—Finding that they could not live apart and be happy, although a former matrimonial venture had been a failure, Fred J. Maurer and Marie L. Maurer came from San Francisco yesterday where they were married again by Township Justice Clarkson. The Maurers were divorced in San Francisco about a year ago.

WATER COMMISSION NOT TO RECEIVE COMPENSATION

B. H. Pendleton Sets at Rest Rumors in Circulation That Board Will Be Paid by City for Its Services

The following correspondence is self-explanatory:

"B. H. Pendleton, Esq., 1308 Webster street, Oakland, Cal. Dear Mr. Pendleton: To set at rest certain reports flying about in regard to the members of the water commission, of whom you are one, I am prompted to address you this inquiry. Your appointment carries with it no compensation for the services you are to render the city; nevertheless, the reports are flying about that there is an understanding that the members of the commission are to be paid a large sum of money for their services. These reports are exciting considerable unfavorable comment, and I deem it just that they should be set at rest.

"Therefore ask you if there is an understanding that the members of the commission are to be paid, or whether the members of the commission expect to be paid for any services they may render in connection with the water question.

"This letter is written in a friendly spirit and is intended to evoke an answer that will set at rest false rumors and unfavorable criticism. I know that you would not be a party to any deception or to any scheme by which an expense is to be fastened on the city surreptitiously. I confidently expect a candid answer to a plain question prompted by a desire to do justice to you and the other members of the water commission.

"I need not say that THE TRIBUNE has only the kindest feeling for you and wishes to relieve you of any unjust imputation.

"Yours sincerely,
"JOHN F. CONNERS,
"Managing Editor."

PENDLETON REPLIES.

"Jno. F. Connors, Managing Editor, Dear Mr. Connors: I acknowledge receipt of yours of the 8th and would convey to you my appreciation of its kind expressions toward me personally.

"You ask 'if there is an understanding that the members of the Water Commission are to be paid, or whether the members of the commission expect to be paid for any services they may render in connection with the water question.' In reply I would state that under the resolutions passed both by the old Council and the new, it is expressly declared that this Water Commission should serve without any compensation. There has been no suggestion that this commission should be paid nor do they expect or desire to be paid for their services. The Commission was created of men who had experience and were acquainted with the water business, whose duty it should be to carefully consider the very complex situation and advise the Council of the steps necessary to legally condemn and take over the plant of the Peoples Water Company.

"As I stated to you personally, we deem it of vital importance that the City of Oakland should own its own water plant and it is to the good fortune of the community that men of such exceptionally high standing as Mr. Dornin and Mr. Veach are willing to serve on the commission and give their time unreservedly and without any desire or thought of reward in order to assist in this enterprise.

"I remain,
"Yours very sincerely,
"B. H. PENDLETON."

WAIT IN VAIN FOR FREED CONVICT UNIVERSITY CITY

Wife and Babes of Houston Are Stranded in San Francisco.

Comes From Arizona to Greet Man On His Release From Prison.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—After traveling all the way from Arizona to meet her convict husband on his release from San Quentin penitentiary, Mrs. Vera Houston discovered that she had arrived too soon, and found herself destitute in a strange city this morning with her four-year-old son Jewel and her three-months old infant, Thelma. Not knowing where to go, she applied to the police and was given lodging at the Central Emergency hospital. The woman's tale is an extremely sad one. She was living happily with her husband in Stockton when he was convicted nine months ago of grand larceny for stealing $50 and sent to prison. Taking her boy Mrs. Houston went to Tucson, Arizona, where her babe was born and where she remained until a letter came from her spouse telling of his approaching release at the end of June.

On her arrival here she could not find him and believes he either lost some of his credits, and has not yet been released, or is somewhere searching for work. Charitable institutions will be appealed to in Mrs. Houston's behalf and she will probably be sent to relatives in Stockton today.

E. G. Lewis Accused of Using United States Mail to Defraud.

Millions of Dollars Flow Into Treasury of the Accused Man's Corporations.

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—E. G. Lewis, until recently publisher of a number of magazines and promoter of enterprises, was indicted by a special grand jury in the United States district court today on charges of fraudulent use of the mails.

The indictment, containing twelve counts, covers four propositions laid before the public by Lewis, in which he is alleged to have obtained several million dollars by misleading statements, circulated through the mails.

It is charged that Lewis through misrepresentation, with intent to defraud, sold unsecured notes on the Woman's Magazine building, and the Woman's National Daily building in University City, of which Lewis is mayor; unsecured notes of the University Heights Realty and Development Company, operated a "debtors' scheme," and has misrepresented the condition of the Lewis Publishing Company in selling stock in the concern.

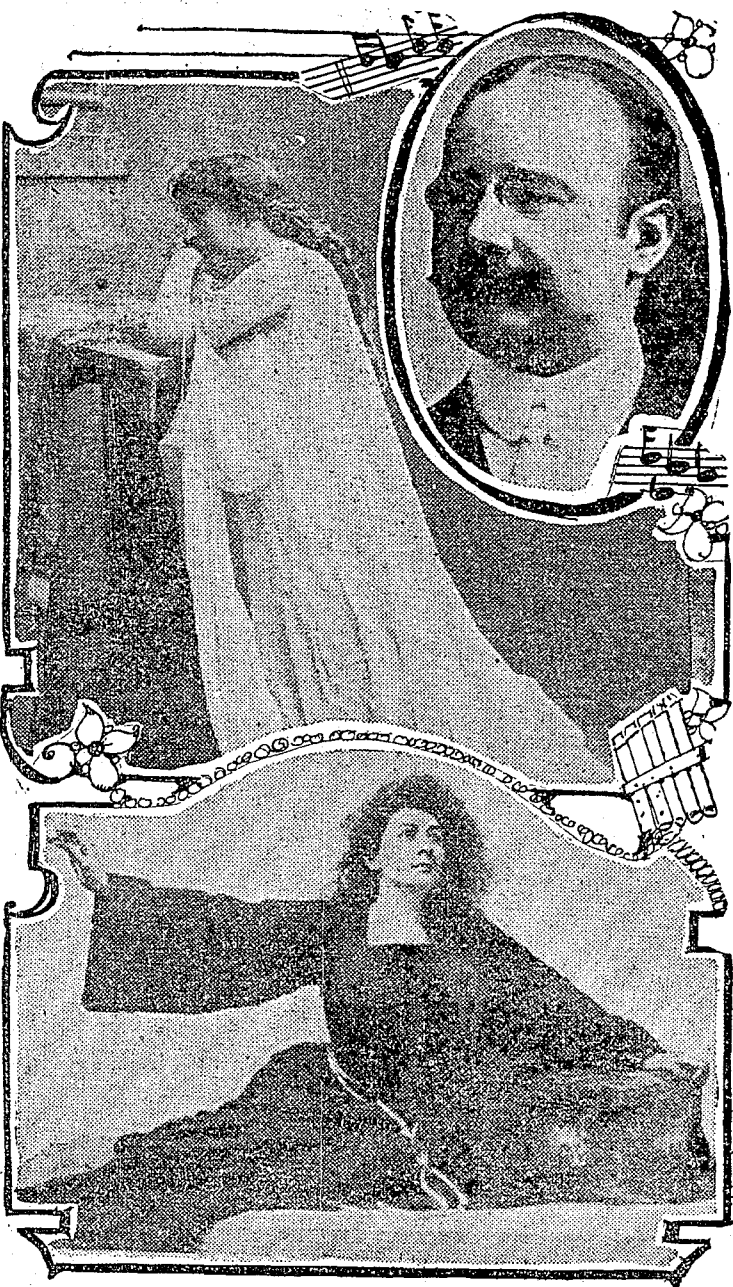

INVESTIGATE FOR YEARS.

The government's investigation has been in progress for the last year. Lewis recently put his corporations in the hands of trustees with sole power to handle them for five years, when it was understood he should receive them back without indebtedness. Certain creditors have attacked the trustees in the federal court by asking that a receiver be appointed.

Lewis was indicted in 1905 on charges of conducting a scheme to defraud through his operation of the Peoples United States Bank, one of his corporations. Other indictments charged him with defrauding the government of postal funds by sending through the mails a greater number of sample copies of his publications than the law permitted. He was acquitted on several of these charges, and all were withdrawn at a later date.

It is charged in the indictment that by the debtors' plans Lewis endeavored to recover in exchange for long time debtors' papers securities of his different companies and obligations, most of which were due at early dates amounting to $1,160,000. Lewis' attorney, after having the bond fixed at $5000, said his client would appear in the court in the afternoon.

EMMA EAMES MARRIES IS DE GOGORZA'S BRIDE

MME. DE GOGORZA, the former Emma Eames, in two of her characters; and EMILIO DE GOGORZA.

Singers Reach the Altar After Two Years of Traveling Over Rocky Road

PARIS, July 12.—Mme. Emma Eames and Emilio de Gogorza were married at the city hall today. The ceremony was in strict privacy, only the legal number of witnesses being present.

The witnesses for the bride were William Francis Warden, the painter, and Friedrich Blair, a banker, and Ernest Arnal, a lawyer.

M. de Gogorza, assistant to the mayor, officiated and made a brief address, in which he wished the contracting parties happiness and prosperity and expressed the felicitations of the municipality.

The prima donna was divorced from her former husband, Julian Story, in the spring of 1907. The baritone, who has been associated with the prima professionally, was divorced from his wife, Mrs. Elsa Neumann de Gogorza last year.

So anxious is Mme. de Gogorza to comply with all formalities that the civil ceremony will be followed by a religious ceremony Thursday. The religious ceremony will take place at 10:30 o'clock in the morning at the Church of St. Pierre de Challes. The Pope has granted a special dispensation permitting Mme. Eames, a Protestant, to be married in a Roman Catholic church.

After the marriage the couple will go to Germany for a month's honeymoon. Then the bride and groom will begin their annual concert tour.

Mme. Eames and de Gogorza have been betrothed for more than two years. During that time they have found the paths of love rather rocky. Every legal difficulty was put in the way of their marriage by Mrs. Elsa Neumann de Gogorza, who accused Mme. Eames of having wrecked her home. In the spring of 1909 Mrs. Gogorza sued for a limited divorce, naming Mme. Eames as "psychic correspondent." Mrs. de Gogorza frankly admitted that the character of both the diva and the baritone was unimpeachable. In her separation suit there was no suggestion of misconduct.

The detective described several branches of the Camorra among the harbor workers in the towns near Naples. There was a branch, he said, at Castelmare, of which the leaders were Giuseppe Chirricco, Alberto Fraumeno, Vasquale Gargiulo and Ferdinando Di Matteo. All these are among the defendants.

Chirricco, he said, received $30 a month as a tax on the Camorra, which was still paid him, although he was a prisoner. The sisters of Vitozzi made monthly collections of dues from the Camorristas for Chirricco and the other prisoners.

The lawyers for the defense attempted to create an incident that would result in interrupting the witness, but when the prisoners began a disturbance the president stopped it by threatening Rapi, the most turbulent, with removal from the court room.

JUDICIARY AND CAMORRA LINKED

Capt. Fabroni Drags Prominent Names Into the Trial of Accused Murderers.

Soldier Delves Deep Into the Remarkable Career of the Criminal Organization.

VITERBO, July 12.—Captain Fabroni who, if not the star witness for the Crown has at least made the accused Camorristas more uncomfortable than they have been made at any other period of the trial, went deep into the political influence of the Camorra and mentioned names with a boldness that caused the judge to caution him to be moderate in his statements.

Fabroni, in the guise of a clerk of the ministry of justice, devoted years to learning the alleged connection between the Camorra and the Neapolitan judiciary.

Along this line he said in substance: "The Camorrist has no political ideas. He exploits the elections and the elected for gain. The leaders distribute bands throughout the town and they have recourse to violence to obtain the vote of the electors for the candidates whom they have determined to support. Those who refuse to vote as instructed are beaten, slashed with knives or kidnapped.

ASSURED OF IMMUNITY.

All this is done with assurances of immunity as they will have the protection of successful politicians, who realize they cannot be chosen to office without paying toll to the Camorra."

Fabroni said he had in mind former Deputy Gargiulo and Count Ravaschieri. "The latter," he continued, "in 1904 hired the Camorra, which at that time surpassed all precedents in corruption, abuses and crime. During the election of Ravaschieri, Enrico Alfano, Ciro Vitozzi, the priest, and Giovanni Rapi promised the streets of Naples wearing large tri-colored rosettes, and as masters of the town, ordered all kinds of lawlessness to obtain their object.

"The Camorra was then at the zenith of its power, but within it two factions were fighting secretly, but ferociously, for control of the criminal body. Enrico Alfano, because of recent electoral successes, was in the ascendancy and the influence of Genaro Cuocolo, who had been the king receiver of stolen goods, was waning. Alfano wishes to establish an undisputed empire with Rapi, Vitozzi and Ferdinando de Matteo as his lieutenants. The murder of Cuocolo was necessary, as he interfered with the gains of others who were in a hurry to make a fortune. Alfano trusted in his immunity from arrest."

BRANCHES OF CAMORRA.

The detective described several branches of the Camorra among the harbor workers in the towns near Naples. There was a branch, he said, at Castelmare, of which the leaders were Giuseppe Chirricco, Alberto Fraumeno, Vasquale Gargiulo and Ferdinando Di Matteo. All these are among the defendants.

Chirricco, he said, received $30 a month as a tax on the Camorra, which was still paid him, although he was a prisoner. The sisters of Vitozzi made monthly collections of dues from the Camorristas for Chirricco and the other prisoners.

The lawyers for the defense attempted to create an incident that would result in interrupting the witness, but when the prisoners began a disturbance the president stopped it by threatening Rapi, the most turbulent, with removal from the court room.

SAVES MAN FROM MANIAC'S CLUTCH

Charles F. Jones Has Finger Bitten and Is Injured for His Pains.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—While engaged in an effort to save a fellow lodger from the attack of an insane man, early this morning, Charles F. Jones of the Standard Hotel, Sixth and Folsom streets, had his finger bitten and received other injuries which necessitated his being sent to the Central Emergency Hospital.

Jones was leaving for work when he heard a cry for help and found a roomer in a struggle with a maniac, who was clutching him about the throat and endeavoring to choke him to death.

Jones mixed in the fray and succeeded in putting the man to flight, but not until he had himself been hurt. The lunatic ran from the building and the police have heard no further reports regarding him.

PROTESTS WIFE'S WORK IN CHURCH

J. H. Hodson Fails to Get a Divorce On Unusual Plea.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Declaring that his wife, Annie, spent a greater portion of her time during the thirty-eight years of their married life attending to charitable and church work, J. H. Hodson, an artist, asks Judge F. J. Cole in Judge Graham's court for divorce this morning. The court was of the opinion that there was not enough evidence to warrant a separation, and the decree was denied.

Taft Pardons Long-Incarcerated Indian

Executive Clemency Granted to Man Hayes Saved From Hanging.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—President Taft yesterday reviewed the action of President Hayes in a pardon case in 1876 and extended executive clemency to Joshua Wade, a half-breed Choctaw Indian, who has spent the last thirty-three years in jail for a crime against a woman.

President Hayes in 1878 saved Wade from hanging and commuted his sentence to life imprisonment. The man is now old and feeble and still protests his innocence. President Taft ordered him released at once. The crime was alleged to have been committed near Caddo, I. T.

ETHEL BARRYMORE DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Ethel Barrymore, one of the most popular stars of the stage, appeared at the Macdonough theater last night before a large and enthusiastic audience in a double bill consisting of two plays of James M. Barrie's, "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire" and "The Twelve-Pointed Star." The former is a delightful comedy in which Miss Barrymore appeared several years ago, but now plays better than ever before, while the latter is a one-act piece of a more serious nature in which the star does work which places her among the most accomplished actresses of the day. The support is all that could be desired, Louise Drew, daughter of John Drew, sharing the honors with the star in the first play.

BEAM POOL CLOSING DOWN.

SANTA BARBARA, July 11.—The Lima Bean Growers' Association yesterday decided to not purchase any more beans this season, beginning August 1. As a result of this action farmers who have heretofore been protected by the association must look out for themselves unless they are members.

Seismograph Records Prolonged Earthquake

Instrument at Government Observatory Registers Many Tremors.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—An earthquake of some violence and remarkable for its duration, was recorded last night at the seismological observatory of the Georgetown university. The tremors began at 11:27 p. m. and continued until 1:18 a. m., being the most severe at 12:20. The indications were that the point of occurrence was remote from Washington, certainly not within the United States.

FORMER TRAINING AIDS PHIL CAREY

The Deputy District Attorney Captures Alleged Pickpocket in Exciting Chase.

Speed, gained as an athlete while in the University of California, served Phil M. Carey, deputy district attorney, in good stead last evening in capturing John Crane, a pickpocket, who had just robbed Stephen D. Booth, a former police judge.

The capture took place at Third and Washington streets after Carey had pursued the man for several blocks. He turned the pickpocket, who will be charged with grand larceny, over to Patrolman Tillotson to be taken to the police station.

Crane, with a confederate who afterwards escaped, jostled Booth as he was boarding a train for Los Angeles, and succeeded in taking his purse, containing $28. While the judge was looking for his purse, the two men left the train. Carey, who had witnessed the affair, started in pursuit, and ran down Crane at the depot in which the alleged pickpocket took refuge.

Booth, who is 82 years of age, attempted to follow the accomplice, but although he was able to show remarkable agility for a man of his years, the thief escaped. The police have a good description of the man, however, and an attempt will be made to apprehend him.

DE LATIMER MADE WIFE'S GUARDIAN

The Court Removes Daughter, Deeming the Change Advisable.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Walter V. de Latimer was appointed guardian of his wife, Viola, this morning by Superior Judge Lawrence. A little over a year ago the woman is alleged to have murdered the greater portion of a $25,000 estate in auto rides and other sight-seeing diversions.

Her daughter, who formerly acted as her guardian, it is claimed, participated in some of the excursions, and for that reason a change in the guardianship was deemed advisable.

Lightning and Bike Perform Freak Stunt

Handle Bars of Machine Are Wrenched Off and Driven Into Tree.

SOUTH WINDSOR, Conn., July 12.—During an electrical storm here last night a flash of lightning struck the handle bars of a bicycle standing beside an elm tree in the yard of Chas. Ryan. The handle bars were torn off and driven from the foot of the tree up 20 feet, removing the bark as smoothly as if the work had been done with a knife. The bars were then turned back, slid down five feet and buried themselves eight inches deep in the wood, none the worse for their journey.

SEEK NEW TRIAL

SAN JOSE, July 12.—The attorneys for Wm. McAdams, under conviction in the second degree for killing his wife at Gilroy February 12, last, have moved for a new trial and next Friday was set for hearing argument.

SANDS IS FREED ON TECHNICALITY

Man Accused of Dynamite Plot Against Cassou Bake Shop Acquitted.

Charles Sands, accused of exploding a dynamite bomb on the night of March 23 near the bakery at 811 Clay street, owned by J. Cassou, won his liberty on a technicality of law late yesterday afternoon in the superior court, where he was on trial for sending threatening letters to Cassou, prior to the explosion. Sands received letters of a "black hand" character, demanding $5000 under penalty of having his bakery dynamited and his son, Felix, kidnapped.

The case against Sands went to trial before Judge Fred V. Wood of Amador county, and in due time Cassou was placed upon the stand. On cross-examination Attorney J. J. Van Hovenberg, counsel for Cassou, brought out the fact that the envelope of the threatening letter, on which the information was based, bore a San Francisco postmark. He immediately dropped the prosecution. A little later the court to instruct the jury to return a verdict of acquittal, arguing that under section 660 of the penal code the offense, if any was committed, had been committed in San Francisco and outside the jurisdiction of the superior court of Alameda county, because it was there that the letter was mailed. Judge Wood ordered the jury to return a verdict of acquittal.

'Skeets' Martin's Father Buried at Petaluma

Parent of American Jockey Lies in Vault He Built Himself Many Years Ago.

PETALUMA, Cal., July 12.—John A. Martin, father of "Skeets" Martin, the American jockey, now riding under the colors of Lord Rosebery of England, was buried today in a vault he prepared many years ago. Martin had visited the vault he had prepared for the reception of his body after many years.

WIDOW OF DR. W. H. RICE TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

Nora Rice late yesterday afternoon applied to the probate court for letters of administration in the estate of her deceased husband, Dr. Weston H. Rice, who was killed June 27 when his automobile ran into a Key Route train at the corner of Fortieth street and San Pablo avenue. The physician left personal property valued at about $500. Besides the widow there is a three-year-old son.

'NAUGHTY WOMEN' SAYS SEE LAWYER

They Were Jurors' Wives So He Somewhat Modified His Criticism.

CHICAGO, July 12.—It was expected that the case of Evelyn Arthur Roe, charged with abducting Mildred Bridges, would go to the jury today. Attorney Cantwell, in closing for the defense, cried: "Shame at women who," he said, "had come to the trial to hear a spade called a spade."

"The women who have come to this trial day after day have come to listen to unclean and unholy things," said Cantwell. "They have heard them. They have filled their low minds with revolting details and so long as this is true they may as well hear more today. Shame upon them, shame upon them. I say, gentlemen of the jury, I am glad that the wives or sisters of none of you are here."

A number of women left the room at this and Cantwell was informed that four of them were wives of jurors.

"Of course," he resumed, "any woman may have a legitimate interest in the case that her husband is engaged in. That puts a different light on the matter."

MASKS ARE FOUND ON JAILED COUPLE

Railroad Officer Needham Believes He Prevented Bold Holdup.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Railroad Special Officer J. Needham believes he frustrated a bold saloon hold-up in the Petrosi this morning, when he arrested Harold Jones and Andrew Moran, who are being held by the police pending a further investigation. The young men were acting in a suspicious manner when Needham approached and took them into custody. On searching them he found handkerchiefs with notes in them in the pockets of both, and a revolver concealed on Moran.

When the patrolman first caught sight of them the pair were looking through a crack in the door of Anderson's saloon, and near the point where they were stopping a second revolver was later found by Officer J. Horgan. Detectives Tobin and Callaghan are investigating the case.

ISSUE OF HIGHWAY BONDS NEARLY READY

CHINATOWN WIDE OPEN SIX HOURS

Reduction of Squad Leaves the Place Unprotected in Early Morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The Chinatown squad, reduced in number since the recent changes on the part of Chief of Police White, has left a clear path for the operations of the Orientalists from 2 until 8 in the morning. The last officer leaves his post at 2 a. m. and from that hour until morning has dawned there is nothing to prevent a wide-open Chinatown and gambling in the clubs. Whether an additional force will be assigned to the Chinatown section on account of this lack of protection has not yet been determined, but the situation is well-known to the Chinese residents of the locality.

WILL OF CAPT. JARVIS BEQUEATHS $400,000

SEATTLE, Wn., July 11.—The will of Captain David H. Jarvis, formerly in the revenue cutter service, was probated today. Mrs. Ethel T. Jarvis, his widow, was appointed executrix. The estate was valued at $400,000 and has an annual income of $30,000. With the exception of a few small bequests the entire estate was left to Mrs. Jarvis. Captain Jarvis committed suicide June 11.

CIVIC COMMISSION NO LONGER EXISTS

Albany Trustees Abolish Body Which Helped Run Municipality Near Berkeley.

ALBANY, July 12.—The civic commission, headed by R. Gould, who recently declared that gambling was too freely permitted in this city by the police authorities, has been ousted from office by the board of trustees, and the commission abolished. According to the members of the board, the civic commission was of no real benefit to the city.

Since the recent report of the commission to the effect that Marshal Chris Miller had not been doing his duty there has been friction between the trustees and the board. The trustees held that the commission had usurped its powers and duties and should be done away with. Marshal Miller denied that he had neglected his duties in any way.

TAYLOR BRANDS SPOUSE A FURY

Emeryville Druggist Declares That Wife Has Threatened His Life.

Roy J. Taylor, an Emeryville druggist who has been sued in the Superior Court for a divorce by Gustie E. Taylor, on the ground of extreme cruelty, declares in his answer and cross complaint that instead of his being the incorrigible brute of the household it is his wife who is to blame for nearly all the trouble that has occurred during their marital career. He says Mrs. Taylor frequently went to the drug store and insulted his customers; that she accused him of being intimate with other women and on one occasion deliberately threw gasoline upon the face of the store and was lighting a match to set it on fire when he overpowered her just in time and sent her home with their child.

Taylor says that on another occasion his wife called at the store and accused him in the hearing of several persons who were trading there, of undue intimacy with women customers. She was in a terrible frenzy, the answer alleges, and seizing a gallon bottle of medicine, threw it at him with all her might. The bottle struck the prescription scales, injuring them and destroying more than $20 worth of goods when it broke and the contents were scattered about the store.

LIQUOR SELLERS MOBBED

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., July 12.—A mob of masked and armed citizens of Palisade, Colo., took the law into their own hands and, visiting a number of places where liquor is said to have been sold illicitly, ordered the alleged "bootleggers" to leave the town immediately. Ministers and town officials are said to have been in the vigilance committee. The liquor dispensers are defiant, and violence is looked for unless they comply with the demands to close up immediately and leave.

INTEREST CENTERS ON NATIONAL COUNCIL

Today's Session Devoted to Secondary Schools and Colleges.

EYESIGHT OF PUPILS FREELY DISCUSSED

Plans for Election of Officers Focus Attention of Many Members.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—Interest among delegates of the National Education Association centered today in the meeting of the National Council, where the adjustment of relations between the secondary schools and colleges was discussed by Robert J. Ally of the University of Maine, G. W. A. Lucky of the University of Nebraska, and Otis W. Caldwell of the University of Chicago. General discussion followed the set address and was participated in by educators from all portions of the United States.

Departmental meetings occupied the morning. The elementary department discussed the curriculum, and the department of secondary education maintained an animated discussion on college entrance requirements in English.

ON PLEASURE BENT. Although the departmental meetings were well attended, thousands of delegates took advantage of the amusement program, which included a review of 2000 United States troops at the Presidio and many excursions to nearby points of interest.

The various receiving committees continue to extend the hospitality of the State to the delegates and to assist in making the pleasure jaunts of the visitors as pleasurable as possible. Among the women on the general hospitality committee, of which Mrs. E. L. Baldwin is chairman, is Miss M. E. Aldrich, county superintendent of schools of Trinity county, who, though one of the youngest teachers of the State, is prominent in Northern California as an able woman educator.

THE SECTIONAL MEETING

A proposition which, the author says, will in effect "revolutionize pedagogy," and incidentally bring the eyesight of thousands of hapless youngsters was presented to members of a sectional meeting of the National Education Association today by Dr. F. Parke Lewis of Buffalo. Dr. Lewis is one of a committee appointed by the American Medical Association to confer with the National Education Association about the physical welfare of school children.

TO HOLD JOINT SECTION

For the first time in the history of the respective bodies a joint committee of the American Medical Association and the National Education Association will begin work at the end of the present session, to aid each other's professions in working for more healthful conditions in the schools. Dr. W. A. Evans, former Commissioner of Health of Chicago, another member of the doctors' committee, is advocating a plan by which every school board would contain a doctor and every board of health an educator.

POLITICIANS ACTIVE

Besides the regular departmental meetings and the amusement program for the visitors, much activity is being shown in the coming election of officers of the N. E. A., and the insurgents declare they will stampede the convention and force the election of their ticket by insisting both for nomination at the direct primary and the employment of the Australian ballot. Dr. A. E. Winslow of Boston, editor of a New England educational journal, is again in the fight for president, the choice of many of the standpatters. Elmer E. Brown, at present in Washington, is also said to be a strong fighter in the fight, and though he has never sought election his selection as head of the association is being urged by the standard bearer.

DEFENSES HER IDEALS

When Mrs. Young made her annual address as president at Pavilion Park last night, she made no effort to flout standpat members of the association, but her address was vibrant with the vehemence of her ideals. She made it a theme of her aims and policies as an insurgent in the ranks of educators.

TOMORROW'S SESSION

At tomorrow's session present problems of an English education will be before the convention, as will be a plan to place the term of the days of vacation to give a competent education without decreasing the efficiency of the education received by the children.

N. E. A. DELEGATES BUSY POLITICAL POT BOILS

MRS. MINNIE E. ALDRICH, county superintendent of schools of Trinity county, who attended the convention of the County Superintendents of Schools just concluded in San Francisco, and who is on the receiving committee to welcome the Eastern delegates to the National Education Association convention.

DEPUTY SHERIFF HAD CLOSE CALL

Alleged Confession to Detective Petersen Bares Murder Plot.

Change in the plans of the a deputy sheriff of Nevada probably saved him from death and prevented John Howard, a former convict, and escape from the Nevada penitentiary, from making a bold getaway which might have involved the life of the Nevada sheriff. The story of the conspiracy of two convicts to rescue Howard, and of how their plans miscarried was told by Charles Chigline, a clever forger held by Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen in the Oakland city prison, Chigline confessing to the attempted rescue to win clemency from the police official.

HEALTH IS BROKEN

Broken by disease, and dreading being returned to San Quentin, Chigline agreed to have a talk with Captain Petersen last evening. He confessed to several forgeries and asked for clemency. Captain Petersen then questioned him closely as to his associations with other ex-convicts since his release a short time ago from San Quentin. The man, believing that Petersen might know more than he, laid bare the plot in which he had been engaged to rescue Howard.

WAS TO GIVE HIM GUN

"I was to get a revolver and when he was placed on the car I was to take the seat behind him and slip him the gun over the back of the seat. Then we would take advantage of the first chance, put the sheriff away and make our getaway. Afterward he would divy on the swag."

DREW RESIGNS TO END CONTROVERSY

The Police Court Stenographer Settles Dispute in Courts.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The controversy over the police court stenographer which for a while assumed bitter proportions, was settled this morning through the resignation of Daniel Drew from department 2. Following the death of Judge Conlan and the appointment of Joseph Sullivan, the latter nominated Joseph Stevens as his official reporter, the other judges, however, electing Drew to that office.

The city attorney seemed inclined to think that the judges had the power of selection, but Drew has seen fit to resign in order to avoid all unpleasantness.

BARTENDER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM CREMATION

H. Marcus, a bartender of Oakland, rooming at 671 Milton street, had a narrow escape from cremation yesterday, when he barely escaped from his room in his night clothes. He was awakened by the crackling of the flames and the smell of smoke and was just able to grope his way to safety without saving any of his personal effects. It is the belief of Assistant Fire Chief McDonald that the fire was caused by the dropping of a lighted match in a room adjoining that of Marcus. The damage caused by the fire is estimated at $1000.

FARIA MADE MISTAKE, WITNESSES TESTIFY

Skippers Declare Santa Rosa's Captain Should Have Taken Off the Passengers First

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The chief issue under discussion at yesterday's investigation by United States Inspectors Bolles and Bulger into the wreck of the steamer Santa Rosa off Point Arguello, Friday afternoon, was that Captain Faria, the master of the ill-fated vessel, should have taken off his passengers before he tried to float his ship.

Captain Thomas Gunderson and First Mate Arthur Krause of the steam schooner Helen P. Drew were the principal witnesses at yesterday's investigation. Concerning the taking of passengers off the steamer before the attempt to refloat it, Inspector John K. Bulger asked Captain Gunderson:

"Do you think, captain, from your experience as a master and as one who was present when the vessel was ashore, that it was judicious to attempt to pull off the ship with the 265 passengers aboard?"

ONE THOUGHT IN MIND.

"No," answered Captain Gunderson. "I would first have taken off the passengers. Then I would have seen about pulling off the ship."

There was but one thought in the minds of the three skippers whose three ships—the Helen P. Drew, Centralia and Argyle—stood steadfastly by the Santa Rosa from early Friday morning till late Friday night. They thought was that the Santa Rosa's master would transfer his passengers before the sea became rough.

"(Would it have been safer, up to 2 o'clock in the afternoon, to transfer the passengers to your ship, captain, or take them ashore?" asked Inspector Bulger.

"It would have been safer because of the surf off shore to transfer the passengers to any of the three ships," answered Captain Gunderson. "The three ships stood by because they thought the passengers would be transferred."

TRIAL TRIPS OF UTAH GRATIFYING

The Performance of Turbine Engines Successful in Every Particular.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The performance of the new battleship Utah on her recent trial trips have gone far toward strengthening the cause of turbine engines. It may result in a revision of the decision of the designers hereafter to install only reciprocating engines on the Utah class of ships. There has never been any question as to the efficiency of the turbine at high speed, but some of the naval vessels equipped with these engines have shown an alarming lack of economy when driven at medium or cruising speeds—meaning speeds between 10 and 15 knots an hour.

Now the Utah has been tried out at the ten knot gait and has shown that she can get along well on a coal consumption of 128 tons per day. That is a good deal of coal compared with the performance of quadruple expansion reciprocating engines of like power, but it is actually much less than the consumption of other turbine battleships in the navy, allowing for the far greater tonnage of the Utah, and is very satisfactory to the designers.

Indications are that for future battleships the navy will look with favor upon any plans that provide shipbuilders that contemplate the combination of reciprocating and turbine engines, the reciprocating engines alone to be used at the slow cruising speeds, and the combination at top speed.

COMMITTEES WORK FOR SHARE IN ROAD FUND

MARTINEZ, July 12.—Assemblyman M. R. Jones, representing the Contra Costa County Highway Commission, took the first definite step to secure for this county a portion of the $18,000,000 good roads fund on Monday night when he appointed A. C. Coleman of Martinez, L. B. Dimm of Richmond and George B. McNear a committee of three to enlist the services of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county in the matter. A similar committee consisting of Charles M. Belshaw of Antioch, A. W. Malby of Concord and Warren H. McBryde was appointed to interview the members of the Stockton Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Supervisors of San Joaquin county.

The proposed highway will extend from Stockton, through San Joaquin county, along the Martinez and Richmond water-fronts and wind up on the county road of Alameda county.

SALOONMEN MUST FACE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

CONCORD, July 12.—Serious charges were made against the city's saloons before the Board of Trustees Monday night by Edward Scholtz, who filed charges, declaring that every saloon in Concord was keeping open after 12 o'clock, selling liquor to minors and allowing gambling to go on in the back rooms. The members of the board became very indignant at the charges and issued orders that every saloonkeeper in town appear before them at their next meeting. It is intimated that a very strict ordinance will then be drawn up.

SUCCESSFUL TEST MADE OF NAVY HYDRO-PLANE

HAMMONDSPORT, July 11.—Successful tests of the new navy hydro-aeroplane were made here today. Lieutenant Hammondsport, starting from and alighting on the waters of Lake Keweenaw, in another test the aeroplane was started from the land and settled on the water. Rising again, the machine circled about and alighted in the field.

Krause told how he and the crew put on life preservers and got into the small boat and how, after they had ridden the breakers an hour, the rough sea capsize their little craft before they could reach the Santa Rosa.

He said he thought Captain Faria was in charge of the Santa Rosa, but that the latter gave him no orders except regarding the handling of the life raft.

There were plenty of heroes aboard the Santa Rosa, according to the testimony. Second Mate Houston and the three men who lost their lives in the undertow were brave men. From early dawn they had been in a boat passing lines to the steamers standing by, and they were exhausted when their boat capsize late in the afternoon. They had not eaten since the night before and were working and fighting on their nerve.

Essig risked his life in helping to rig the line that was used to pull the passengers were carried through the surf to safety. He was the first one to make the trip in the big iron bucket. "It was necessary to prove to the passengers that the device was safe and the sailors promptly made the trip, returning immediately afterwards to the steamer to help the passengers ashore."

CUPID IN SADDLE LEFT AT BARRIER

The Manager of Jockey Martin Checks His Matrimonial Race.

That there will be no wedding bells for Jockey Eddie Martin until he has reached his majority was the ultimatum that Miss Frances Rachel Racer of 1130 Thirtieth street received from Jack Weaver, Martin's manager, last week, when she arrived in Cincinnati for the purpose of marrying the well-known turf rider.

After a fruitless effort, with the assistance of Chief of Police Jackson of the eastern city, to win over the obstinate manager, Miss Racer decided to return to her mother and she arrived home yesterday afternoon. She declared that she still holds the jockey's love and that he vows he will come west within the next few weeks, obtain the consent of his own parents, and have the ceremony performed August 15. It is said, as the tentative date set.

Martin is not quite 21 and Miss Racer is only going on 18. However, she carried with her when she left for the east about ten days ago, written consent of her mother, Mrs. Martin, and her sister, she said, and everything had been arranged for the ceremony upon her arrival in Cincinnati. But the youthful couple had not reckoned with Manager Weaver, who holds a contract on the jockey's services. He objected strenuously to the boy's taking any further contracts. The prospective bride, appealed to the police to use their influence, but without avail, so she took her home in the Y. W. C. A. until her transportation back home could be arranged.

LEAK IN COFFERDAM AROUND MAINE STOPPED

HAVANA, July 11.—A serious leak in one of the twenty cylinders of the cofferdam surrounding the Maine, which has given anxiety to the engineers for some weeks, was discovered yesterday and effectively stopped. Pumping will be continued at an early date, and from present indications the berth deck, on which probably the greater number of fatalities occurred, will be exposed by July 20.

MINISTERS TO CRUSADE AGAINST TENDERLOIN

STOCKTON, Cal., July 12.—Two services will be held Sunday, one for men and one for women, at which the Ministers' Union of Stockton will lay bare local tenderloin conditions which the ministers say are running full blast against the law and order. The ministers say they will remove the filth and expose the districts in its nakedness.

ALLEGED DYNAMITER ATTACKS HIS JAILERS

MARTINEZ, July 12.—Raymond Sabtar, held in the county jail for an alleged dynamite outrage, made a second assault on his jailers yesterday, and in the fracas cut and bruised George Burnovich, a fellow-prisoner about the head and face. Sabtar a few weeks ago attacked Deputy Sheriff Josselyn and Howard Veale.

BOY BATHER DROWNS. SUISUN, July 12.—Edward Baggalupi, aged 14, was drowned while bathing in the creek here. He went into the water in company with his brother and several others and got beyond his depth. He sank the third time before friends could reach him. The Baggalupi family came here from San Francisco to remain during the fruit season.

BOLD, BAD BANDIT IN SHORT SKIRTS

Akron Girl of Thirteen Years Livens Vacation Period by Bank Holdup.

AKRON, Ohio, July 12.—Edna Goble, a 13-year-old Akron girl, is under arrest charged with attempting to hold up the Cuyahoga Falls Bank in western style yesterday. She walked into the bank and asked for the cashier, J. S. Wolfinger. He happened to be out and D. B. Gendamer, a bookkeeper, was in charge. The girl then pointed a gun in Gendamer's face and demanded that he give her all the money that was in the vaults. He told her the safes were locked, and that he had no keys to them. "Then give me all the money you have in your pockets," she said. "Sorry, but I have no money with me," answered the bookkeeper. The girl then backed to the door, covering Gendamer. He called to the town marshal, who was in the street near the bank, and the girl was arrested.

MAN AND GIRL WIFE BRUTALLY MURDERED

TACOMA, Wash., July 12.—With their heads smashed by a double-bitted axe wielded by an unidentified murderer, Archie Coble, aged 25, and his 17-year-old bride, Nettie, were found dead in their bed at 6 o'clock last night in their home at Rainier, a small town thirty miles from Tacoma. Coble was a clerk employed by the Rainier Mercantile company. He did not appear for work and when the fact that his wife was not around the house had caused considerable comment, neighbors investigated and found the young couple dead. No motive can be ascribed by neighbors for the crime and the murderer left no clew.

UNITED STATES GETS ALSOP CLAIM AWARD

LONDON, July 12.—The Times announces that King George has given the award in the Alsop claim to the United States. The award concedes $187,000 ($935,000) to the American claimants. The Alsop claim is based upon large sums of money advanced to the Bolivian government in 1874, Chile agreeing to assume the obligation of Bolivia to the company when Arach passed to Chile. The claim amounted to $1,900,000. The United States and Chile agreed to submit the case to the late King Edward, and after his death to his successor, King George.

FRIENDS GATHER TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

BERKELEY, July 12.—A delightful evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kells in honor of their daughter, Ruth Kells, who celebrated her birthday. The home was prettily decorated with pink and white sweet peas. Music and games were enjoyed. Those present were: Wilson, Mary Henry, Harriett Teter, Elizabeth Bach, Ruth Kells, Achu Callahan, Lottie Garrison, Josephine Phillips, Etta Callahan, Dave Roberts, Harry Hutchinson, Loy Callahan, Hulan Teter, Arthur Reichhold, Carl Watcher, Clark Kells, Walter Horner and Arthur Geisler.

MOSQUITO FLEET PAYS DAY'S VISIT TO EUREKA

EUREKA, Cal., July 12.—The mosquito fleet of torpedo boats and destroyers, which sailed from San Francisco for Puget Sound, arrived here yesterday for a twenty-four hour visit and to take on some supplies. The little vessels resumed their journey this afternoon. In crossing the Humboldt bay bar two huge combers broke over two of the vessels and carried away one of the mascot dogs and some baggage. Last night all of the officers were entertained at a banquet given in their honor by the different clubs of the city.

TRAMMER FOUND GUILTY

RENO, Nev., July 12.—The jury here tonight found J. Frank Trammer guilty of murder in the first degree and fixed the punishment at life imprisonment. Trammer with Nimrod Urie was accused of killing Eugene Quillie and his wife at Inlay, Humboldt county.
